Measure B: Renewing Expiring Local School Funding

Palo Alto Unified School District provides a world-class education for local students and local schools consistently rank among the best in the State and the nation. Exceptional teachers, innovative programs, dedicated parents and strong community support all contribute to high levels of student achievement.

Locally Controlled Funding Set to Expire

Since 2001, Palo Alto schools have received proceeds from a voter-approved parcel tax that now provides nearly $17 million per year in locally controlled funding that cannot be taken by the State. However, this funding is set to expire in 2027 unless renewed.

Measure B: Continuing Local School Funding at a Reduced Tax Rate

At the February 10th meeting, the Palo Alto Unified Board of Trustees voted to place Measure B, a parcel tax renewal measure, on the June 2, 2026 ballot. Measure B will renew local school funding at a reduced tax rate of $800 per parcel for four years. Due to careful budget management and strong emergency reserves, PAUSD is proposing a reduced parcel tax rate of $800 per parcel for four years. Reducing the annual parcel tax rate from $941 to $800 and freezing the rate for four years (with no inflation increases) seeks to balance community investment in local schools with the impact on local taxpayers. Without renewal, the current parcel tax will expire next year, eliminating this local funding source and requiring cuts to academic programs, teachers and staff.

Mandatory Fiscal Accountability and Local Control

If approved by voters, Measure B will be subject to fiscal oversight:

-  All money will be controlled locally and can not be taken away by the State or federal governments
-  Independent citizens' oversight and mandatory annual audits
-  Homeowners aged 65+ will continue to be eligible for an exemption from the cost
-  No money raised from Measure B can be used for administrators' salaries, benefits or pensions
-  This parcel tax will be at a rate lower than the current tax
