Student Guide to Asynchronous Learning Days

Keystone/AP Testers are not required to complete asynchronous work on the day(s) of their test(s).

An asynchronous day is a full instructional day where you learn from home instead of reporting to school. To be marked "Present," you must log in to Canvas and submit all assigned work by 3:00 PM. If you are sick, follow normal attendance procedures. Excused absences processed through the attendance office will be given an opportunity to make up asynchronous work.

Your Morning Checklist

- 8:00 a.m. Start: All assignments will be posted to Canvas by this time.
- Check Every Course: Look for the "Asynchronous Task" module in each of your classes.
- Read First: Review all instructions before beginning tasks.
- Note Office Hours: Department office hours and Zoom links will be posted in Hershey Student Hub in Canvas.

P.R.I.D.E. Expectations: Maintain high standards for your learning by staying:

- Prepared: Have all your materials ready and check every class for assignments.
- Responsible: Complete and submit work for all classes no later than 3:00 p.m.
  - Double-check your assignment submitted correctly. (Did you see confetti?)
  - You will be marked UNL if you do not turn in your work for that class
- Integrity: Do your own work and give your best effort.
- Determined: Keep trying even when work is challenging.
- Engaged: Participate actively and communicate with your teachers.

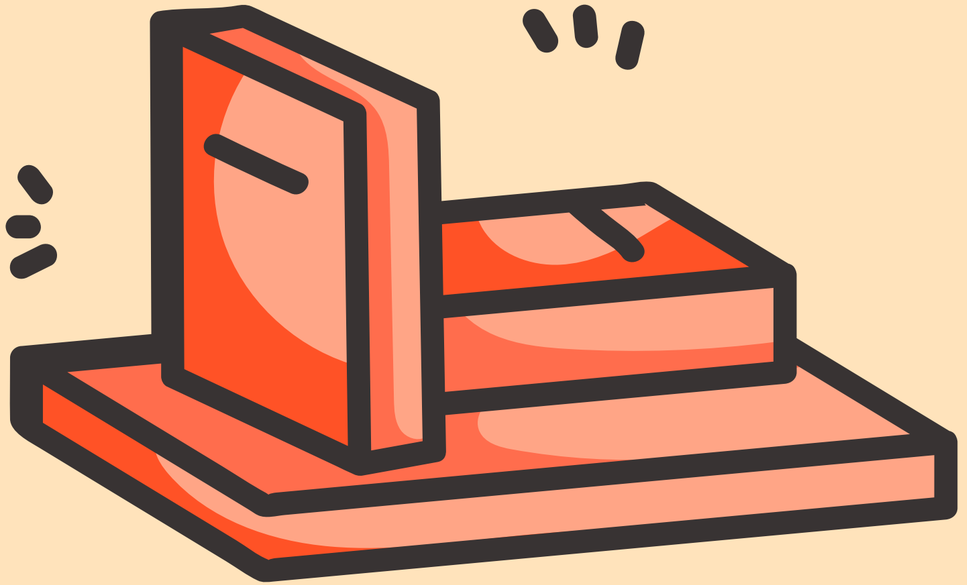

Strategies for Success

- Manage Your Time: Start early and break your work into smaller “chunks.”
- Eliminate Distractions: Put your phone in another room or on “Do Not Disturb.”
- Submit Early: Don't wait until the last minute; submit work as soon as it is finished.

What to Do if You Get Stuck:

1. Re-read: Go back to the instructions.
2. Email: Send a specific question to your teacher (e.g., “I'm stuck on question 4 of the Math assignment”).
3. Tech help: Send an email to the Help Desk (help@hershey.k12.pa.us) for any tech issues.
