Category	Does Not Meet Criteria	Somewhat Meets Criteria	Mostly Meets Criteria	Meets Criteria
Understanding the Civic Issue (Criteria 3)	Issue is unclear or not explained. Little information is included about why it matters.	Issue is identified but the explanation of why it matters to the community is limited.	Issue is clearly explained and connected to the community, but supporting information is missing.	Issue is clearly explained with strong understanding of why it matters to the community. Supporting information or examples are included.
Civic Action (Criteria 3)	Little or no action related to the issue is shown.	Some action is described, but the connection to the civic issue is unclear.	Action is clearly connected to the issue, but the explanation of the impact or purpose is limited.	Project shows meaningful civic action (service, awareness, advocacy, leadership, etc.) that clearly addresses the issue.
Reflection of Learning (Criteria 4)	Reflection is missing or very brief. Little explanation of what was learned.	Reflection describes the experience but shows limited learning about civic responsibility or the community.	Reflection explains what was learned and how the experience connects to civic engagement, but more detail could strengthen the reflection.	Reflection clearly explains what was learned about civic responsibility, the community, and the student's role in making a difference.
Communication of Learning (Criteria 3)	Presentation is unclear or disorganized. Important parts of the project are missing.	Presentation explains parts of the project but lacks organization, clarity, or helpful visuals.	Presentation is organized and explains the project clearly, though some slides could be more detailed.	Presentation is clear, organized, and effectively explains the issue, the action taken, and the learning from the project.
