

How to Report Scholarships

Learn how to add Third-Party Scholarships to compare estimated and actual costs of colleges.

Overview & Access

The College Financing tool helps you estimate and compare college costs based on your financial background, scholarships, and college award letters. It's designed to give you a clear picture of what each college might cost, so you can make informed decisions about your future

To access the College Financing tool, click Finances in the side navigation bar, then select College Financing.

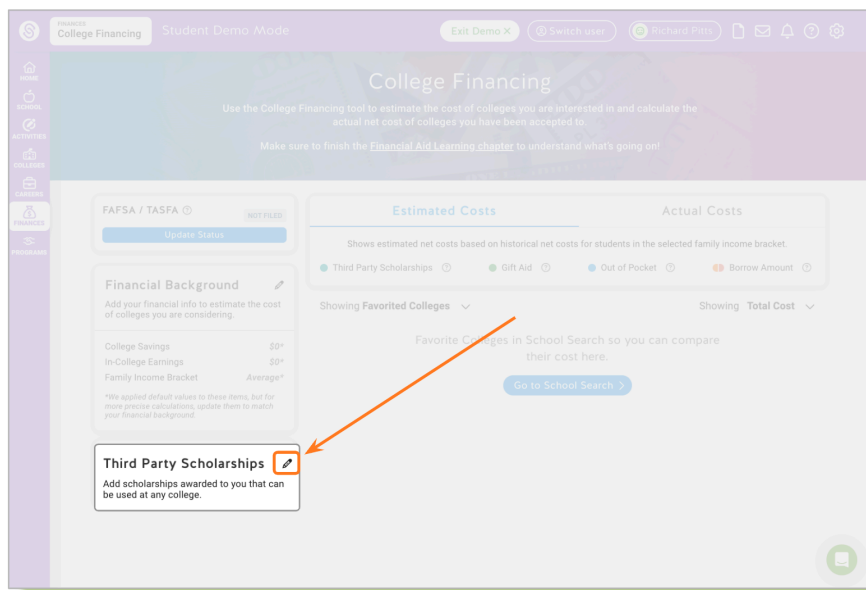

Third-Party Scholarships

The Third-Party Scholarships section of the College Financing tool lets you add and update the status of scholarships you apply for. These scholarships come from external organizations—like companies, nonprofits, or foundations—rather than specific colleges or the government.

Note: Only add scholarships that can be used at any college here. If a scholarship is tied to a specific college, you'll need to add it as an Award Letter as explained in the next section.*

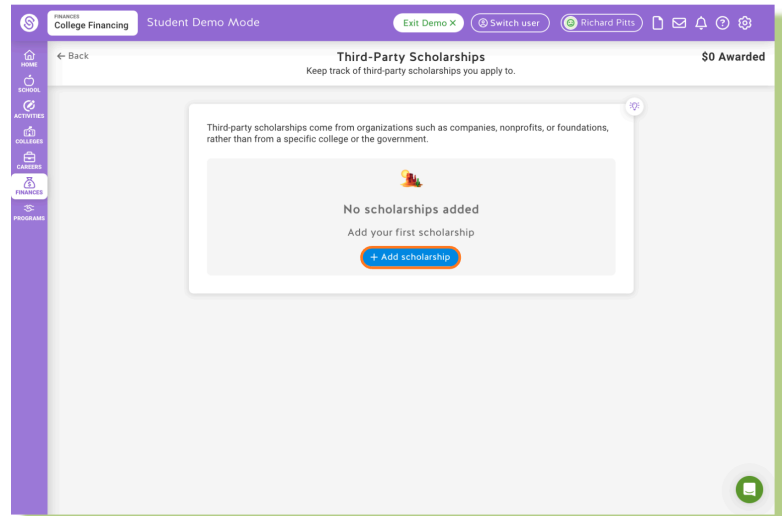

To add a new scholarship:

- Click the pencil icon on the Third-Party Scholarship tile

How to Report Scholarships
