Representatives of the Homewood Flossmoor Chronicle, HFEO and League of Women Voters were present, as well as, members of the public in addition to members of the Administrative Leadership Team.

Public Comments. Ms. Kia D. London, an alumna and teacher at HF, addressed the board regarding agenda item 7.3.2.7, concerning her non-renewal. She highlighted her professional recognition as a nationally recognized educator in language education, with expertise in intercultural competence, proficiency-based instruction, and equitable representation. Ms. London shared her experience of being informed unexpectedly on March 6th that her contract would not be renewed, despite her formal evaluations reflecting proficient and highly effective performance. She expressed her commitment to supporting students and contributing to the development of IB courses and curricular planning. She mentioned the personal impact of her departure, as HF has been a home to her, and thanked the community, especially the parents and students, for entrusting her with their education. Ms. London expressed pride in her students' growth, particularly in language communication and intercultural competence. She concluded by thanking Dr. Alexander, Mr. Camp, and her colleagues in the World Language Department for the opportunity to collaborate and contribute to world language education. Ms. London also thanked the board members for their time and service to the school community. Ms. London provided a copy of her statement for the record. Mr. Pauling acknowledged Ms. London's statement and made it part of the official record.

Pastor Doyle Landry, Marine Corps Veteran, began by reflecting on the importance of February 17th, a day marked by the passing of Reverend Jesse Louis Jackson, Sr. He explained that this event led to his absence at the previous meeting, noting that the remarks he would be sharing are ones they would have expressed had he been present. He then noted an article from The Citizen, which he had planned to address a month earlier. The article reflected on a $126.9 million project whose creator was Brian Gorman, a Homewood-Flossmoor High School graduate from the class of 1993. Pastor Landry added that Gorman is not an athlete but someone who emphasizes the importance of academics. Pastor Landry reiterated his long-held belief in prioritizing education and used Gorman's story to underscore the value of academic achievement. Pastor Landry moved on to discuss Rondale Moore, a 2015 graduate from Indiana and the decision Mr. Moore made on February 21st. He encouraged the audience to look up Moore's story to understand the deeper context, tying it to the broader issue of African-American male mental health, which has been Pastor Landry's key focus. Pastor Landry closed by referencing the flyer provided, clarifying that it was not from this March 2nd. He noted that he is the founder of Positive Vision Communications, which is also the company associated with the topics discussed 11 years ago. He emphasized that the contents of the flyer were particularly relevant in light of the recent elections, and remarked that it is impossible to receive an endorsement from someone who has passed away. Additionally, he expressed the importance of respecting others, stressing that it is unacceptable to dishonor someone's name. Pastor Landry acknowledged he was here tonight with a new acquaintance, a member of the Divine 9, whom he had met just a few days prior. Pastor Landry added that this individual is a professional accountant and enjoys playing the saxophone. Pastor Landry invited him to the meeting to expose him to the rich arts, music, and theater programs at the school, with the hope that he might consider become a teacher and teaching at H-F in the future.

Ms. Beth Larocca, community member, raised a few questions and concerns regarding tonight's agenda items. The first question pertained to the textbook adoption item. She noted that there were no attachments provided, leaving her unclear on the details, particularly regarding the cost of the textbooks. The second set of questions related to the request for four Dean's Assistant positions. Ms. Larocca asked for more information on the data that supports the need for these positions and expressed concern about potential discipline issues. She also questioned the distinction between these positions and security roles, seeking clarification on their specific duties and responsibilities. Next, Ms. Larocca inquired about the leadership restructuring proposal on tonight's agenda, specifically the addition of an associate principal. She requested a job description, the associated cost, and an explanation of why the position is necessary, as she expressed the concern that the administration might be becoming "administrative heavy." Lastly, Ms. Larocca raised questions about adjusted appointments in the security team, particularly the police security liaison positions. She asked whether the individuals in these roles and the reason for the adjustments. Ms. Larocca added that she was confused about whether these positions were replacing others or undergoing some restructuring. She concluded by expressing hope that these questions would be addressed during the meeting when the relevant topics were covered.

- FY27 Chromebook Purchase - Dr. Dallacqua reported anticipated Chromebook price increases of 30–50% by July and a six-month lead-time. Delaying purchase may result in higher costs and potential delivery delays. Three vendors were evaluated, with one recommended based on pricing, reliability, and service. The vendor will defer payment until July 1, 2026, allowing the district to lock in current pricing. Estimated cost avoidance ranges from $94,800 to $158,000. The committee supported proceeding with the purchase to secure current pricing.

- Textbook Adoption (Part 1) – Dr. Dallacqua presented a recommendation to approve the purchase of core textbooks for the fall of 2026. HF Board Statement | Re: Non-Renewal | Tuesday, March 17th | 7:00pm

Good evening,

My name is Kia D. London. I stand here as a proud alum of HF and a teacher in the HF Community. I am a nationally recognized educator in the field of world language education, with professional recognition for my work in intercultural competence, proficiency-based instruction, and equitable representation. It has truly been an honor and a privilege to bring this work to the students of the community that helped shape me.

I am here to speak to the following article that will be on tonight's agenda: 7.3.2.7: Non-Renewal. I understand that recommendations regarding probationary teachers are made pursuant to the Illinois School Code, and I am respectfully sharing my experience and information so that the Board has a complete understanding of my professional record as it considers this item.

I was originally scheduled to have my second annual non-tenured teacher meeting on March 24th. Unfortunately, on Friday, March 6 I received an unexpected email for a meeting that day, in which I was informed that my contract would not be renewed.

My formal evaluations have always reflected proficient and highly effective performance, indicating that I have been meeting the district's expectations for effective teaching. Throughout this time, my focus has remained on supporting students in developing communicative proficiency, interculturality, and building collaborative relationships with my students and colleagues. I also completed IB training this year, and am one of the teachers in my department who are contributing to curriculum development for the upcoming IB courses. Initially, I was also one of the few invited department members to the authorization meetings for IB.

I am saddened that my journey is coming to a sudden close, as Homewood has always been home to me, and will continue to be (as my parents still live down the street). To the HF parents and community, thank you for entrusting me with your children's world language education over the past two years.

To my students, including the members of SNHS, I will truly miss hearing "Hey Profe London!" in the halls, the many conversations we have shared, our fun dance breaks, and our ongoing interactions in Spanish! I am so proud of the growth that my students have demonstrated in communicating in the target language and in developing intercultural competence. As one of my Spanish 5 students told me, "Profe! I love your curriculum!" That warms my heart, as I have done what I was destined to do when I came back to HF.

Finally, I express my sincere appreciation to Dr. Alexander, Mr. Camp, and my colleagues in the World Language Department. Thank you for giving me the opportunity to collaborate, inquire, advocate, and contribute to language education in this community.

Thank you all for your time and service to this school community,

~Kia D. London
