What is the Migrant Program?

Migrant Education is a national program that provides supplemental education and support services to eligible migrant children each year.

These services help children of migrant workers overcome the disadvantages they face, one of which is disruption to their education due to mobility.

Students who are migratory may have limited English language skills and/or very little experience succeeding in school. These problems, combined with irregular school attendance, often lead to general frustration and poor academic performance, causing many migrant children to drop out of school in their teens.

Through the Migrant Education program they can get an education, develop their skills and improve their options for the future. In addition, the program helps them develop self-confidence, increase their self-esteem and overcome challenges.

How do you qualify for the Migrant Program?

To qualify for the Migrant Education Program, a migrant child must have moved within the past three years across state or school district boundaries with a migrant parent, guardian, self, or a member of the child's immediate family to obtain temporary or seasonal employment in an agricultural, fishing, or food processing activity. The child may be in any grade between preschool and the 12th grade, must not be older than twenty-two years old and not a high school graduate.
