POTENTIAL SNOW DAY!

BY: HAVEN

Later this week, we can expect some wintry conditions! Currently, meteorologists are predicting that the bulk of the snow is expected on Saturday into Sunday morning. However, some reports indicate that we may see snow as early as Friday night. During this winter storm, we can expect snow, sleet, and freezing rain. It's advised that you be prepared and stock up on food and other supplies, as road conditions may be dangerous. This storm does pose a risk of power outages, so make sure you and your family are prepared! Lastly, if the storm is as serious as they say, conditions could be hazardous into next week, which means a possible snow day.

LAST FRIDAY

BY: NANA

Popular musician and actor Ice Cube is coming out with "Last Friday", the fourth movie in the Friday movie series. This movie is anticipated to come out in either 2026 or 2027. The Friday movie series revolves around the life of Craig (played by Ice Cube) and the different situations that he gets involved in with friends. The franchise is a comedy, but it possesses real-world elements that people can relate to. The movie will do its best to use actors from previous films, though it will be difficult to replace characters whose actors have passed away, such as John Witherspoon.
