Elections are in May for the SEPAC board

ESY:

Middle School

Liz Phoenix runs the middle school. Breakfast and lunch is provided through the Summer Eats program. (4) 30 minute rotations with Dawn reading math with mr Brown for 30 minutes. CAD and science teachers come up (depending on what teachers want to sign up) or any other subjects that want to sign up for a slot. This is Monday-Thursday. If the student receives PT, OT or speech, those providers make their own schedule and will take those students during. If the student is in 3rd grade and going into 4th, they will be up at the middle school for ESY so that they can get familiar with the school and some of the staff.

Elementary school

Kim Biagini runs the elementary school level. The schedule is Monday-Thursday 8:30am-12pm. Their day starts off with breakfast. Then playground time. Much like at the elementary school during the school year, they have morning meeting followed by centers (learning activities) which are geared towards academic activities designed to help keep the students skills sharp and there is no regressions during the summer. Then outside and water play. There are usually 2 classrooms. PT, OT and speech are the same as the middle school where the service providers make their schedules and pull students out when needed.

The NECC program will be separate from the regular ESY services and it is up to the team to decide where the student needs to be.

Determination is based on the individual needs of the student and if there is any concern for regression during the summer. Some kids may do better with having the time off at home vs going in for the 4 weeks. It is all on what is best for the students individually.

Life Skills program starts at 8th grade. There are not many kids in the program. It is like the Bridges program at the elementary school but geared more towards life skills (cooking, laundry, planning store trips). It is different every year because it is all individual with what the current students need.

Transportation is provided for the ESY program. You can sign up for 1 week of the ESY program or all 4 weeks. However many weeks or days that the family is able to do.

Tutor schedule is challenging, especially with parents schedules and working during the summer.

May meeting would be geared towards transitions (high school and after). Monica was going to be touching base with some of the organizations. Jackie is going to touch base with Monica to see where this stands.

Next meeting is scheduled for 05/14.

Meeting end at 6:03pm
