(REGULATION)

PROHIBITED USE OF
ELECTRONIC DEVICES
DURING ASSESSMENTS

In accordance with state assessment security requirements, electronic devices are prohibited from use during state assessments and district testing administrations. District testing includes, but is not limited to, PSAT, SAT, ACT, Advanced Placement (AP) exams, Credit By Exam (CBE) and exams for acceleration.

Such prohibited devices include, but are not limited to, cell phones, Apple watches, iPads, iPods, MP3 players, or other handheld electronic devices with Internet and/or photographic capabilities.

BY STAFF

The use of a cell phone or other electronic device by any staff in the secure testing environment is prohibited. Failure to comply may result in disciplinary consequences.

BY STUDENTS

The possession or use of a cell phone or other telecommunications/ electronic device by a student during the allotted testing time, including the time after which all testing materials have been turned in, is prohibited. A student possessing any such device during testing is in violation of test security.

Students are encouraged to leave their devices at home on testing days. If, however, they are in possession of an electronic device on school property during state testing, they will be required to turn in the device to the test administrator and it will not be released by the teacher to the student until all testing materials have been collected.

All secondary students will be required to sign an electronic device oath acknowledging their understanding of this policy.

If a student violates the policy, the device will be confiscated and held according to campus policy.

Possession of an electronic device is a testing violation and will invalidate the student's testing results. Additional disciplinary consequences may also be administered in accordance with the Student Code of Conduct or as deemed necessary by the campus administration.
