NASHOBA BROOKS SCHOOL

Your child's education is one of the most important investments you will ever make. And, for most families, investing in an independent school education requires careful financial consideration.

At Nashoba Brooks, we believe elementary and middle school education provides an essential foundation for our students as learners and as leaders. Children who develop a love for learning in their early years will continue to find joy in learning throughout their lives.

While the costs associated with providing outstanding educational opportunities for your child can be substantial, the many benefits—exceptional teachers, small classes, differentiated instruction, and support in the pursuit of personal excellence through academics, athletics, and the arts—are invaluable.

In an effort to honor our mission and make a Nashoba Brooks educational experience more accessible, our Board of Trustees implemented the reVision Tuition Plan to reduce tuition each year for three years, starting in 2021-22, while sustaining our longstanding commitment to providing financial assistance to qualified families. As you consider both the value of and investment in a Nashoba Brooks education, you will also see our commitment to making costs transparent, sustainable, and affordable for families.

TUITION AND FEES

Tuition at Nashoba Brooks School, including grade-level mandatory fees, provides for all costs associated with delivering a high quality, child-centered academic program. It also covers the costs associated with school lunch (Grades TK-8), books, day and overnight field trips, athletic team expenses for all interscholastic sports, music ensemble, grade appropriate one-to-one technology, in-school activities, school supplies, student accident insurance, and tuition refund insurance. TUITION PAYMENT PLANS

Families may choose one of three payment plans. Families who select Plan A agree to pay the full tuition in one payment, due by May 15, before the school year begins. Families who choose Plan B pay tuition in three payments (50% by May 15; 25% by October 15; and 25% by January 15), and families who select Plan C pay tuition in 10 equal payments (April 30 through January 30).

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

Nashoba Brooks School strives to build and maintain a community where diversity in all its forms is supported and celebrated, and where students are enrolled based on their individual strengths and not on their families' financial circumstances. We encourage families to apply for financial assistance if they are unable to afford full tuition on a 10-month payment schedule. All financial assistance awards are based upon a family's demonstrated need, as assessed through Clarity, a financial assistance application system. Awards vary depending upon demonstrated need and the amount of money available in the School's financial assistance budget. Additionally, the financial assistance committee recognizes the costs of our extended day and supervised study programs. The determined grant percentage for tuition will automatically be applied to the cost of these auxiliary programs. Roughly 22% of our students receive need-based financial assistance.

PHILANTHROPIC SUPPORT FOR NASHOBA BROOKS

The excellence of the programs and curriculum we offer now exists because of a shared history of investment from those who came before. The collective commitment of our community to support the School's mission through philanthropy is integral not only to our culture but also to our financial model. The philanthropic support we receive from our trustees, current parents, alumni, parents of alumni, grandparents, and friends of the school brings our mission to life by allowing us to attract and retain top teaching talent, provide engaging experiences in academics, athletics, and the arts, and introduce authentic leadership opportunities for students across the School.

Full tuition pays for only a portion of the actual cost of educating a student. The financial model that underpins the School's operations depends on three principal sources of revenue: tuition revenue, endowment income, and philanthropy from our community. Gifts to support our annual operating budget, increase our endowment, or support specific capital projects are all philanthropic opportunities at Nashoba Brooks School. We ask every family to contribute to philanthropy in a way that is meaningful to them, knowing that our collective effort leads to our collective success.
