

TRIDENT ACADEMY TEACHER

Who We Are

Trident Academy, located minutes from downtown Charleston, SC, educates students in grades K through 12 who struggle with learning disabilities like dyslexia and ADHD. Educators trained in structured literacy / Orton-Gillingham-based approaches are especially encouraged to submit their resumes. Trident Academy will provide continued training for the right candidate.

Educational Requirements

A Trident Academy teacher should possess a minimum of a four-year degree in the field in which he or she teaches. He/she should be an outstanding teacher with a recognized record of success in the classroom, including practicum, internship, and student teaching.

Mission Statement

A Trident Academy teacher, first and foremost, loves children. Teachers have daily responsibility for the social, emotional, and educational well-being of children in his or her care. Consequently, a Trident Academy teacher strives to have a child-centered classroom at all times and should be willing to do whatever is necessary, both inside and outside the school day, to impact the lives of our children. A Trident Academy teacher demonstrates a working knowledge of multisensory individualized instruction, is flexible in modifying and adapting instructional plans, creates a safe and supportive learning environment where students are encouraged to take academic risks, and has a keen understanding of the academic and emotional elements of children with dyslexia and other language based learning issues. A Trident Academy teacher should be a lifelong learner who has a passion for what he or she teaches. Finally, a Trident Academy teacher endorses and affirms the mission of the school:

Trident Academy transforms the lives of cognitively capable K-12 children diagnosed with learning differences through individualized, multi-sensory, and research-based teaching approaches

Successful candidates will be dynamic, collaborative, inspirational, and tech-savvy educators. All applicants must have an academic background that includes an undergraduate degree. Successful applicants will:

- Have a track record of excellent teaching.
- Have an interest in and experience with students who have language-based learning differences like dyslexia.
- Have an interest in and experience with engaging, collaborative, and differentiated instruction.
- Be innovative in the integration of computer technology into their teaching.
- Be innovative, creative, and visionary in program planning and curriculum design.
- Have evidence of collaborative planning within and across courses and subject areas.
