Description of Program

Mother Love's Garden Future Farmers is a summer garden camp. This year we have partnered with Growing Common Ground Farms to offer a combined summer camp. Youth ages 9-12 learning how to grow food organically, the importance of good nutrition and how working together is important. Produce grown at our locations: goes into our CSA Bags, sold at our farm stand, and distributed at local food pantries, sold at farmer's markets and donated to the community. We provide experiential learning, implementation of real-world life and business principles, service to their community, and an outlet for local agriculture. They are able to learn with adult leaders. They will learn about team work, planting, nutrition and agriculture along with receiving a weekly stipend for their participation. Youth will be planting, watering, and weeding. Every Friday they will tour a different urban growing space to see how they operate. A list of our urban farm partners will be provided to the parents along with the location for drop off and pick up before the program begins.

We utilize Junior Master Gardner Curriculum each camper will receive a certificate at the conclusion of the summer Camp as long as they have attended all 5 weeks.

Youth can be dropped off at 950 E Washington St., Lebanon, IN 4605., at 7am Monday through Friday and will be picked up at the same location at 1pm. On Monday and Wednesday our youth will be at our location at 950 E Washington St, Lebanon, IN. Tuesday and Thursday they will be at 1114 W 33rdSt., Indianapolis, IN (transportation will be provided once they arrive at the Farm). Applications drop on April 14, 2026.
