

5/1/26

Dear Wyoming Families,

This time of year always brings a special energy to Wyoming High School, and that spirit is clearly reflected in our students. From focused preparation for AP exams to active participation in spring sports and activities, they continue to show both commitment and enthusiasm in all they do.

Our school community also had the chance to enjoy an incredible display of student artistry this week. Performances from our Strings, Choir, and Band programs were a powerful reminder of the talent, effort, and pride our musicians bring to the stage.

In addition to finishing up EOC testing, one of our meaningful moments of the week was celebrating our seniors on Decision Day. It was a wonderful opportunity to recognize their plans for the future and their many paths ahead. We also took time during Thursday's Flex to honor students who consistently model our Attributes of a Learner. These individuals truly set the standard at Wyoming High School, and their photos will be displayed near the main entrance as a point of pride for our school.

In addition, we recognized students through our PBIS program with several prizes and gifts as we celebrate those who help make our school a positive and supportive environment each day.

Our students' accomplishments extend far beyond our building. Whether through environmental research with students presenting their watershed projects at the zoo, our DECA students competed in business competitions, writing, or musical performance at the state level, they continue to earn recognition across a wide range of areas. Their efforts reflect not only individual excellence, but also the strength of our entire school community.

With several senior events on the horizon, there is a growing sense of excitement as we prepare to honor the Class of 2026 and all they have achieved.

Thank you for your ongoing partnership and encouragement. Your support plays an important role in the success of our students. We hope everyone has a wonderful weekend.
