Thank You to the Wyoming School Foundation for Author Visit Support

A big thank you to the Wyoming School Foundation for funding our visit from New York Times bestselling author Natalie D. Richards! She shared her journey to becoming an author—along with the realities of that path—with approximately 60 of our students. Each student also received a signed copy of one of her books. The library was filled with book joy, and we are very grateful for this support!

Outstanding student fees were sent home with report cards. Reminder, in order to participate in end-of-year field trips, fees must be paid in full. Please check with Mrs. Norris in the main office if you have questions.
