

SCHOOL-BASED RESTORATIVE APPROACHES:

Implementation COMMUNITY OF PRACTICE

Co-facilitated with Lizzie Rodriguez, and designed as a continuation of prior School-Based Restorative Approaches (SBRA) training, this community supports the transition from workshop learning to sustained, consistent practice. Through repeated exposure, guided reflection, and peer collaboration, participants strengthen fidelity of implementation while reducing educator isolation.

Each session will:

- Refresh and model one key SBRA strategy
- Provide structured time to reflect on real implementation challenges
- Offer peer consultation and shared problem-solving
- Support goal-setting between sessions
