Define Yourself

What words would you use to define yourself?

The way you define yourself shapes your identity. We chose our theme of Define Yourself to challenge these stereotypes, and display the evolving identity of our school as new administration takes over. The identity of our school for example, has undergone drastic change during this year. Our school has gone from a rigid place where people did not feel welcome to be themselves, to a school founded on mutual trust and respect. For many people it takes time for them to discover who they truly are. During this time they can be placed into certain categories which do not truly encompass who they are.

RE-Defining Oxford High School

by Madeline Henderson

This year marked a significant change for OHS students when Bradly Roberson became it's new principal. Roberson had a new vision for the school, and has worked tirelessly to REdefine Oxford.

When asked about his transition to OHS, Roberson said his biggest challenge has been getting to know everyone personally. "Relationships are important to me. I want to know every student, parent, and staff member by name. Due to having such a large school, that has been a difficult task."

Roberson has already made a large impact at Oxford High by changing the mission statement and the goal of the school. "Our 'OHS Cares' vision is centered around three founding principles: Loving, Teaching, and Inspiring. Simply put, I want OHS to be a school where everyone feels loved, to teach the whole child, and to inspire our students to reach their life long goals."

Roberson has no intent for his impact to be temporary; he wants to impact the school for years to come. His goal when he decided to take the role of principal was to have a larger impact on student's lives.

"I want to impact as many lives as I can. I love young people. I also loved teaching; however, as a teacher I didn't have enough power to enact school-wide change for all kids."

Thanks to his new role at OHS, Roberson now has to power to enact the change he wants to see, and Oxford is lucky to have Principal Roberson cheers with the cheerleaders at the state football game. Roberson encouraged school spirit.

"I want students to define me as someone who cares more about them than their test scores. I want to be defined as a principle that loves everyone and wants all children to succeed. I want students to be able to say he gave me hope when all hope seemed to be lost."

Roberson walks around during lunch. He talked to students in the commons.

The Bolt

This year Oxford High School introduced the Bolt, a new school store which provides snacks and drinks for the students and teachers. This idea was created by administration, and taken charge of by Linda Flemming. Flemming runs the store and has worked tirelessly to improve and expand the store's amenities. She works in the store every day, before, during, and after school. When asked to describe her experience, Flemming said, "At the beginning it was a little hairy, just because of, like I had to think about the coffee, there's no water source, I had to kind of come up with systems that would work, and at first I wasn't sure if they would work, but they turned out, and that is why it is always changing. I think we have a pretty good layout, and now we have a sign, so I do think things are coming along." She said her experience working in the Bolt had been a positive one, and she had enjoyed interacting with the students and faculty.

What has been the highlight of your sophomore year?

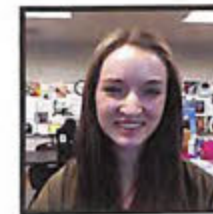

My highlight of Sophomore year is the school adding "The Bolt" and a flex period! It helped me be able to socialize and make new friends.

-- James McKey

I got to be in "What makes a great teacher?" documentary. After that I kinda blossomed and started to get out my shell more. It inspired me to start my own Youtube channel too.

-- Ken'Nia Frierson

The highlight of my sophomore year has been getting to meet new people and having fun with my friends.

-- Annie Forgette

Playing varsity basketball games. It's quite enticing hearing all the people around cheering and the student section going crazy.

-- Rume Egiebor

The highlight of my year has been just establishing stronger relationships with my friends and even making new ones.

-- Nathan Baker

Becoming more involved with art and theatre and therefore having so many opportunities.

-- Emily Toma

Remember the first time you did something that made you feel really good about the way you look? Maybe it was putting on that pair of heels that made you stand taller and stronger. Maybe it was that first shade of lipstick that showed you radiance in your face you had never seen. That's what we aim for. That feeling! That experience!

As your journey into adulthood begins...
Remember the roads your took that got you to this point. Remember the people who prayed for you to be the success you are.
Remember the dedication and determination you held onto...
But most importantly remember that you are amazing, unique and wonderful! Remember that you have a contribution and duty to this world which is to allow us to know the unique talents, qualities and positive change that you behold!

God grant your journey peace, success and love.

We are so proud of you and the beautiful person you have become. May the rest of your journey continue to bring you happiness and success. You are destined for great things and we are so glad we can be a part of it. Always stay true to your heart, believe in yourself, be open to new experiences, make good choices, be proud of all of your accomplishments, embrace love, and forgive others and yourself. May your light always shine bright so you never lose your way.

We love you so much!

"Do you not know that in a race all the runners run, but only one gets the prize? Run in such a way as to get the prize. Everyone who competes in the games goes into strict training. They do it to get a crown that will not last, but we do it to get a crown that will last forever. Therefore do not run like someone running aimlessly; I do not fight like a boxer beating the air. No, I strike a blow to my body and make it my slave so that after I have preached to others, I myself will not be disqualified from the prize." 1 Corinthians 9:24-27

You are such an amazing gift from God. We have watched you grow into such a responsible, loving, and smart young man. You are talented in so many ways and we look forward to watching you grow in those talents. We pray for blessings and success in all that you do. May the Lord be your guide and direct your steps always.

"For I know the plans I have for you," declares the Lord, "plans to prosper you and not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future. Then you will call on me and come and pray to me, and I will listen to you. You will seek me and find me when you seek me with all your heart."

Let your adorning be the hidden person of the heart with imperishable beauty of a gentle and quiet spirit which in God's sight is very precious. | Peter 3:4

Don't let anyone look down on you because you are young, but set an example for the believers in speech, in conduct, in love, in faith and in purity. | Timothy 4:12

I know your deeds, your hard work and your perseverance ... You have persevered and endured hardships for my name and have not grown weary. ...having stood the test, that person will receive the crown of life that the Lord has promised. Rev. 2:2-3, James 1:12

It has been awesome and inspiring to watch you grow and mature into the beautiful young lady you have become. You truly have taught us as much as we have taught you. You are wise beyond your days and we know where it comes from, "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom" (Prov. 9:10). We are so blessed God entrusted us to be your parents. We love you and are so proud of all of your accomplishments which are too numerous to list. God has blessed you with so many gifts and we know you will continue to use them all for His glory.

Lawson Barrett

Our dearest Lawson,
Graduation is upon us, and your father and I could not be more proud of the young man you have become. You amaze us daily with your determination, drive, hard work, selflessness, accomplishments, and your love for God that you share with others. The past 18 years have flown by and the time has come for you to stand strong and make your own footprints in this world. It seems that we've been preparing for this day since you first learned to walk. I hope that you will one day forgive me for loving you so much!!! I hope that we have taught you the most important lessons in life... Love, ethics, and morality through words and deeds. Life is a continuous journey, I hope that you discover and enjoy the rainbows along the way. We are truly thankful for the young man that is brave, hard-working, a good and loving person, and never be afraid to be himself!!! God has blessed you beyond measure, and your father and I look forward to the next chapter of your wonderful life. We love you and commend you on every aspect of your life

Love,
Mama and Daddy

Another year, another adviser, and a whole new staff. Once again, our staff was faced with drastic changes, and faced challenges, but we made a book we feel truly embodies these changes with our theme, "Define Yourself." One of our biggest changes this year was moving from InDesign to online Walsworth design. We chose the theme "Define Yourself" so that we could draw emphasis to the developing identity of our school after we gained a new principal who redefined our school.

We would like to thank Caroline Crews and Mrs. Wise for photos as well as Anna Dennis, Lorelei French, Kaitlyn Moore, Ke'micheal Coleman, Grace Childers, Emily Hollowell, Gracyn Ashmore, Isabella Kelly, Austin Haynes, Sarah Mullen, Justin Payne, Ansley Byars, Graham Nance, Elisha Webb and Kearia Hutchins for sending in prom photos.
