Broad Markets

The first quarter of 2026 was characterized by a familiar tension between a still-resilient economy and an increasingly mixed set of forward-looking indicators. Economic growth appears to remain positive, but data disruptions and revisions stemming from earlier government shutdown-related reporting issues have complicated analysis. Inflation has continued to moderate from prior peaks but remains above the Federal Reserve's long-term target. The labor market continues to show a low hire / low fire pattern that hints towards a softening rather than a sharp downturn.

One major source of uncertainty during the quarter has been the ongoing military conflict involving Iran. While the direct economic impact on the United States has so far been limited, the conflict has increased volatility in global energy markets and contributed to renewed inflation concerns. At this stage, markets appear to be treating the conflict as a manageable risk, but a meaningful escalation could have broader implications for global inflation and growth.

Domestic Equity

2025 started with strong GDP growth but tapered off towards the end. Final U.S. real GDP growth for the year was 2.1%. By comparison, as of April 1, the Atlanta Fed's GDPNow model estimates that the first quarter will produce 1.9% annualized GDP growth.

The labor market has posted uneven jobs growth this past quarter. Both January and March posted strong numbers, with 160,000 and 178,000 job gains, respectively. February, however, saw 133,000 net jobs lost. Taken together, job growth can best be described as weak but improving after a poor 2025. The unemployment rate is currently 4.3%.

Inflation also continues to trend in the right direction, though progress on that front remains uneven as well. In February, the Consumer Price Index rose 2.4% year-over-year, while core CPI (excluding food and energy) rose 2.5% year-over-year.

International Equity

Economic conditions outside the United States remain sluggish, with global growth continuing to run below pre-pandemic norms amid ongoing geopolitical uncertainty, restrictive financial conditions, and uneven domestic demand in various parts of the world. The International Monetary Fund projects global GDP growth of approximately 3.1% in 2026, with advanced economies growing at roughly 1.5% and emerging market economies near 4.0%, underscoring the growing divergence between regions.

Geopolitical developments have become a more significant factor in the international outlook during the first quarter. The ongoing conflict involving Iran has introduced renewed volatility into global energy markets, particularly through disruptions to shipping and supply routes in the Middle East. The Strait of Hormuz typically accounts for roughly 20% of global oil and liquefied natural gas flows, and recent disruptions have contributed to higher and more volatile energy prices. Supply risks threaten energy-importing regions like Europe and parts of Asia, increasing inflation and reducing growth if disruptions continue or worsen.

Fixed Income

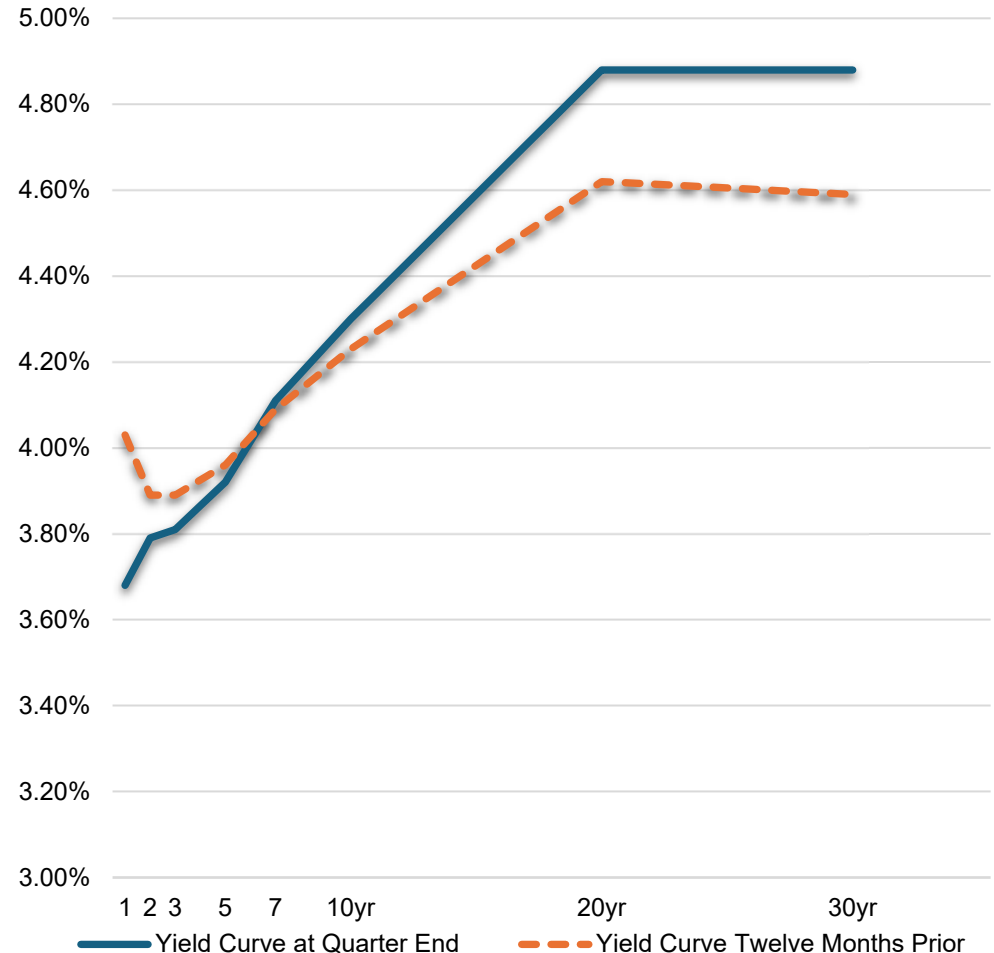

Bond returns were generally negative during the first quarter, as renewed inflation concerns led to higher medium and long-term interest rates. The yield curve has steepened as compared to twelve months prior.

In March, the Federal Reserve maintained the federal funds target range at 3.50% to 3.75%, emphasizing that inflation is still “somewhat elevated” while noting that job gains have “remained low” and that uncertainty around the outlook has increased. Inflation is closer to the Fed’s 2% target than it has been in previous years, but they are expected to remain cautious, particularly given the sensitivity of inflation expectations to energy prices and geopolitical developments. As of this writing, the CME group shows that Fed rate futures are expecting neither a cut nor a raise for the rest of 2026.

Recommendations and Monitoring Decisions

JPMorgan US Equity R6	Ticker/ID: JUEMX	Peer Group: Large Blend
The strategy will flag as failing on a three- and five-year basis, but it is not on the Watch List as the strategy's absolute performance is greater than the category average on a five-year basis.
MFS Mid Cap Value R6	Ticker/ID: MVCKX	Peer Group: Mid-Cap Value
MFS Mid Cap Value was added to the Watch List at the end of Q3 2025 due to performance. In 2022, returns were hampered by stock selection in financials, health care and basic materials. For 2025, security selection in utilities and industrials were the largest contributors to underperformance. Year-to-date, security selection in financials, healthcare and industrials hampered returns. We will continue to monitor the strategy.
Thrivent Mid Cap Stock S	Ticker/ID: TMSIX	Peer Group: Mid-Cap Blend
Thrivent Mid Cap Stock was added to the Watch List at the end of Q2 2025 due to performance. In 2022, returns were hampered by stock selection in communication services, technology and consumer cyclical. For 2023, health care, communication services and technology stock selection hurt returns. For 2024, stock selection was negative in seven sectors with health care leading the way. During 2025, security selection in consumer cyclical, technology and healthcare sectors were the largest contributors to underperformance. Year-to-date, security selection detracted from performance, most notably within the technology, healthcare and consumer cyclical sectors. We will continue to monitor the strategy.
Hartford International Opportunities R6	Ticker/ID: IHOVX	Peer Group: Foreign Large Blend
Hartford International Opportunities was added to the Watch List at the end of Q2 2025 due to performance. From 2021-23, security selection and allocation in Asia emerging markets was the primary contributor to underperformance. This was especially true for strategies in the category that expressly invest outside of developed markets, unlike most of the strategies in the category which limit their portfolios to mainly developed countries. In 2022, Co-portfolio manager Tara Connolly Stilwell assumed leadership of the team and strategy at year-end 2023 in preparation for the retirement of lead portfolio manager, Nicolas Choumenkovitch, which occurred in June 2024. For 2025, while security selection in technology and communication services was positive, financial services and consumer cyclicals selection detracted. Regionally, overall allocation and security selection was positive, but dampened by an overweight to and selection in Asia-emerging. Year-to-date, security selection in financial services, industrials and technology detracted. Regionally, security selection in Japan and Asia-ex Japan was a detractor. We will continue to monitor the strategy.

DISCLOSURES

FOR PLAN SPONSOR USE ONLY

Any recommendations in this report are made with respect only to funds for which StanCorp Investment Advisers, Inc., acts as an ERISA section 3(21) or 3(38) investment advisory fiduciary.

Information for funds for which StanCorp Investment Advisers is not acting as an investment advisory fiduciary is included in this Quarterly Monitoring Report as a courtesy, and its inclusion does not constitute investment advice by StanCorp Investment Advisers or its affiliates. StanCorp Investment Advisers is not responsible for making any recommendations with respect to the inclusion or removal of any investment option that it subadvises or is issued by an affiliate.

Actual results may differ from the performance shown herein. Average annual total return figures include changes in principal value, reinvested dividends, and capital gain distributions. Returns for periods less than one year are not annualized. For funds less than one year old, the Since Inception return figure is not annualized and represents an aggregate total return. Returns presented are net of underlying fund expenses and gross of any recordkeeping or administrative fees charged by Standard Retirement Services which generally include any fees, as applicable, for investment advisory services provided by StanCorp Investment Advisers. These fees would reduce returns.

Overall ratings are provided for the specific share class shown. Different share classes may have different ratings. Morningstar rankings represent a fund's total return rank relative to all funds that have the same category. The percentile ranking is based on the fund's total return percentile rank relative to all funds that have the same category for the same time period. The highest (most favorable) percentile rank is 1% and the lowest (least favorable) percentile rank is 100%. Morningstar rankings do not include the effect of sales charges.

Past performance does not guarantee future results. The value of an investment will vary so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth less than their original value. Fees and expenses will decrease investment returns so investors should take them into consideration prior to investing. Gross expense ratios represent the Total Annual Operating Expenses for the fund and do not reflect any fee waivers or reimbursements that may be in effect at the time the expenses are calculated. The net expense ratio reflects the expenses being charged by the fund at the time the expenses are calculated after taking into account any applicable waivers.

Asset allocation and diversification do not ensure a profit or protect against loss in declining financial markets.

Adjusted indicates an adjustment in the reported performance or expense figures of the underlying fund by the amount of revenue sharing returned to plan assets. Category Ranks and Averages do not apply to adjusted data.

Unadjusted refers to the performance or expense figures reported by Morningstar.

Hyphens appear in data columns to indicate that data is not available.

CUSIP, Net Expense Ratio and Turnover Ratio for Group Annuity investments pertain to the associated underlying mutual funds.

Some investments require a delayed import and will be available approximately 45 days after month end. Therefore, some of the data may be empty or outdated until it is available. Peer groups are comprised of all of the funds that match an investment's category as classified by Morningstar. Morningstar Category identifies funds based on their actual investment styles as measured by their underlying portfolio holdings over a three-year period.

Based on Morningstar data, the system calculates data points on: Product History; peer group rankings for Calendar Year, Standard Deviation, Alpha, Treynor Ratio, Sharpe Ratio, and Expense Ratio; and all peer group rankings for money market funds.

Morningstar reports Manager Tenure at the fund portfolio level, while Product History is listed for the fund share class. As a result, more recent share classes may have much longer manager tenures than the reported Product History.

Net Assets reported in this report may be current as of the end of the month prior to the end of the quarter or the end of the last month of the quarter, depending on when net asset data was made available to Morningstar.

Alpha, Beta and R-squared statistics are calculated using the best-fit index as determined by Morningstar.

Morningstar groups mutual funds and exchange traded funds into different fund universes, although the same category types are used in both universes. Rankings are done within the separate universes, so that mutual funds are ranked with other mutual funds within the same category, and exchange traded funds are ranked with other exchange traded funds within the same category. As a result, a mutual fund and an exchange traded fund that share the same category are ranked relative to different peer groups.

Funds that focus on certain sectors may involve a greater degree of risk than broadly diversified funds. In addition to the risks associated with equity investing, investments in small and mid-cap companies and narrowly focused investments typically exhibit higher volatility and are less readily marketable than investments in larger companies or more diversified strategies. Similarly, international investing involves certain risks, such as currency fluctuations, economic instability, and political developments. These risks may be accentuated in emerging markets. Real estate investment funds are subject to special risks, such as tax law changes, and general economic conditions that may affect the value of the underlying real estate assets. Funds that invest in bonds are subject to certain risks including interest-rate risk, credit risk and inflation risk. Derivatives are subject to a number of risks, such as liquidity, interest rate, market, credit and management risk. A fund investing in a derivative instrument could lose more than the principal amount invested. The principal value and investment returns of mutual funds, money market funds and stocks are neither guaranteed nor insured by the U.S. Government. Indices are unmanaged, do not incur fees and cannot be invested in directly by an individual.

Employers and plan participants should carefully consider the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses of the investment options offered under the retirement plan before investing. The prospectuses for the individual mutual funds contain this and other important information. Please read the prospectus carefully before investing. Investments are subject to market risk and fluctuate in value.

Standard Stable Asset Fund is a group annuity product issued by Standard Insurance Company. Amounts contributed and the fulfillment of any guarantees specified in the group annuity contract are insurance claims supported by the full faith and credit of Standard Insurance Company. Standard Stable Asset Fund is neither a mutual fund nor a bank product and is not insured by the FDIC or any other federal governmental agency. Standard Insurance Company provides and periodically resets a guaranteed crediting rate for Standard Stable Asset Fund. However, plan sponsors may instruct Standard Insurance Company to reduce the crediting rate in order for Standard Retirement Services to reduce certain administrative fees for plan-related services. Your plan's crediting rate may be lower than the guaranteed crediting rate once the reduction has been applied. Past interest rates are not indicative of future rates. Standard Stable Asset Fund may not be available in all states.

Information on Standard Stable Asset Fund may be obtained by contacting your Standard Insurance Company representative.

If the plan sponsor selects The Standard Stable Asset fund as the cash equivalent investment option for the plan and instructs Standard Insurance Company to reduce the crediting rate as described above, the Annualized Returns for the fund as shown in this report is net of that reduction. Current regulations do not permit StanCorp Investment Advisers to recommend the Standard Stable Asset Fund to plan sponsors and plan participants. Once a plan sponsor, or its designed fiduciary (other than StanCorp Investment Advisers or its affiliates), selects the Standard Stable Asset Fund, allocations to the fund are in accordance with the allocation percentage for the cash equivalent sleeve in the models.

Please refer to StanCorp Investment Advisers' Form ADV disclosure brochure for additional details. StanCorp Investment Advisers creates general asset allocation models for use when providing investment advisory services. The allocation percentages to the asset classes in each model are set and updated, as necessary, based on certain assumptions made about market conditions, the rate of return for each asset class, average internal fees and expenses of an investment option, etc. No specific investment option was considered when setting the allocation percentage of each asset class. Therefore, the allocation percentage for the cash/cash equivalent sleeve of each asset allocation model does not take into account any specific investment option selected or whether the plan sponsor has instructed the issuer to reduce any crediting rate. Consequently, investment results may vary among investors using the same asset allocation model and the same investment options.

The Standard is the marketing name for StanCorp Financial Group, Inc., and its subsidiaries.
