ELA Summer
Year – In – Review

Choose a "just right" fiction book to read. Write at least three inferences that you can make about a character based on their actions, dialogue, or thoughts.	Choose a "just right" nonfiction book about a location or a place on Myon. What can you infer about that place? What details helped you make that inference?	Read two different fiction stories in the same genre. Use a Venn diagram to compare and contrast the characters.	Go outside and write a poem, short story, or song about nature or what you see outside.	Write a narrative story from the point of view of someone from one of the historical decades in America (50s, 60s, 70s, 80, 90s, or 2000s)
Choose a play to read on Myon. Summarize each scene in then play or write one overall summary for the entire play.	Choose a page from your "just right" nonfiction book. What are the main ideas of that page? How do you know?	Write a review of the story you just finished reading. Include an overall summary of the book.	Write a letter to your future self for the summer after 6th grade. Write about your hopes, goals, fears, and anticipations.	Write a review for a movie or TV show you watched this summer. Include an overall summary of the movie/TV show.
Choose a "just right" fiction book to read. Create a graphic organizer to describe the characters, setting, and plot of your story.	Write a paragraph about spiders from two different points of view: a negative view and positive view.	Find 5 words in your book that you do not know. Look up the definition and then re-write the definitions in your own words.	Write a narrative story about your favorite meal over the summer. Tell why it was your favorite meal and what happened during the course of it. (Embellish if needed)	Create an advertisement for a fun activity that you did this summer. How would you describe it? Would you recommend it? Use your opinion writing skills to sell it to others.

Choose a “just right” fiction book to read. Describe the main character of your story using 2 similes, 2 metaphors, and 1 hyperbole. Provide details from the story to support the figurative language you choose.	Write about an informational topic that would be best presented using a problem and solution text structure. Explain your reasoning.	Create your own mad lib (search up if you do not know what it is) with 10 blanks and give to a friend or family member to fill it out.	Imagine you were the President of the United States. Write an essay telling what you would change and/or keep the same, and why.	Write and draw a comic strip about a fictional character or yourself. See how long you can keep the strip going. Read classic comics for inspiration.
