

Not my Country, but my Home

I was born in Brazil, but I moved to the US when I was 8 due to my mom's job. A lot of my life has been here. Even though I was not born here, it is still my home. My friends are here, my school, it's the place I know the way. It's where I found my passions, ice skating and running track. It's my home.

