Fabulous Friends centers on popular programs that cater to their range of interests. These campers haven’t tried everything, but they have serious opinions about what they like. We have created a range of developmentally appropriate courses that challenge them to stretch themselves. Campers choose two periods that will comprise their morning schedule for the entire three-week session. In the afternoon, they participate in “choices,” which change daily—such as organized sports, arts and crafts, informal performances, and many more—to ensure variety. If choice time is not their thing, we also have a number of afternoon alternative programs that you can register for at an additional fee.
