How to Play

Everyone starts at READ. Take turns rolling a die and moving around the board. Read a book for the genre, category, or theme of the square you land on before rolling again. Record the books you read on back of your game board, trying to complete as much of the board as possible before summer is over. Once you complete a square, mark it off so that you do not land on it again.

Good luck and happy reading!

No die? No problem...

Just close your eyes tight, wiggle a finger in the air, then land it somewhere above on a die square. That's your roll! Good luck and have fun!

ROLL... READ. REPEAT!

Our Summer Reading-opoly challenges you and your family to explore a whole new world of books (parents, siblings, faculty, and staff included)! Roll the die to navigate the game board and choose a book based on the square you land on. It takes a mix of luck and skill to complete the board. Each stop means a new, awesome book to read. The more squares you complete, the closer you get to winning the ultimate prize in the Fall! Let the game begin!

How do I navigate the game board?

1. You should read at least two books over the summer. The more you read, the more chances you'll have to win cool prizes*.
2. Peruse the suggested list for book ideas, and use the library, Sora, and even your local libraries to gather the books.
3. Spend the summer enjoying your books. As you read, go online to record your reading on the Middle School Summer Reading website! You can also fill it out on the board game if you're not near a computer, don't lose it!
4. Bring your completed game to school in the Fall!
5. At the start of the school year, our community will share the books we read through different, hands-on activities.

* If you visit every square on the board (or more than one board), you get extra entries in the prize raffle! Woohoo!

Frequently Asked Questions:

- Q: If I read a book that fits multiple categories, can I use it more than once?
A: You can only use one book for each location, even if it could fit in more than one place.
- Q: Can I use a book I've already read, even if I reread it?
A: The books should all be "new to you" books.
- Q: Do I have to pick a book from the provided list?
A: Nope! You may choose books that are not on the list.
