The New Den!

This school year went by faster than anyone could have imagined. Honestly, all I can say is that turn in whatever you have, bring up last-minute grades, and just wrap everything up. It's sad to say the least, that this will be the last flourish and thrive that I WRITE. 7th graders, get involved with school. I promise it's worth it, focus on your work, and be nice to the teachers, please. To the 8th graders, its been a great year, look forward to high school, try your best, you still have that Knotts Field trip to look forward to, and you'll do amazing in the future, I promise.
