

With declining enrollment, it is not fiscally responsible to maintain the same number of staff and classes.

The Board is, and has been, committed to assessing staffing needs and organizational structure every time an employee leaves the District.