New Jersey Division of Vocational Rehabilitation Services

From School to Work

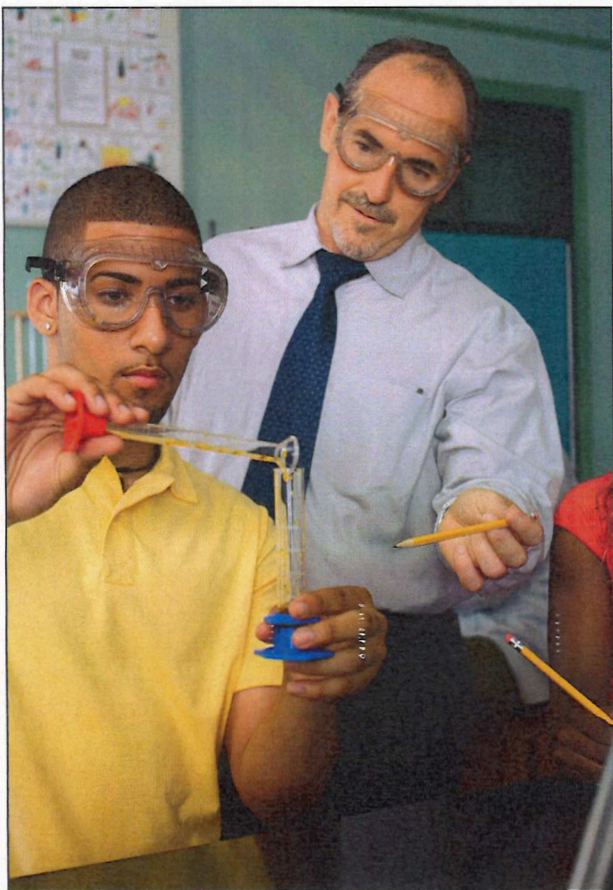

Pre-employment Transition
Services for High School
Students with Disabilities

What's Available

The New Jersey Department of Labor and Workforce Development's Division of Vocational Rehabilitation Services offers pre-employment transition services to help students ages 14-21 make a smooth, successful transition from high school to work, post-secondary education, or job training. These services are available locally. (Locations listed on back panels.)

Our clients learn about opportunities that can help them find a job, and attain the skills needed for them to be productive at work.

Core Services

- Job exploration counseling
Find out how your interests, skills, and passion could lead to a job that's a good fit.
- Work-based learning
Opportunity to sample different jobs – while you're in school, or once you're in the community – through internships.
- Counseling on post-secondary educational options
You may be ready to enroll in a vocational training program, or a two- or four-year college. We can help you sort out your career goals, then guide you to achieve them.
- Workplace readiness training
Learn general work skills, social skills, and skills needed for successful independent living.
- Self-advocacy instruction
Learn how to communicate your needs to others, and how to be a mentor to your classmates.

How Do I Qualify?

Students need an Individualized Educational Plan (IEP), 504 Plan, or other documentation of disability to qualify. Students who are home schooled are eligible. The Division of Vocational Rehabilitation Services does not replace or duplicate any service your school district already provides. All services are voluntary.

How Do I Sign Up?

1. You'll need a referral from a parent, guardian, teacher, guidance counselor, pastor, or trusted adult.
2. You or the adult will need to complete a confidential student referral form found at njcc.nj.gov/dvrsstudents.
3. Mail or email the completed student referral form to your local Division of Vocational Rehabilitation Services office. (Locations listed on back panels.)
