I AM A EFFECTIVE COMMUNICATOR

STORY

A time that I demonstrated effective communicator skills was during our diversity project that I was working on with Charlee and Sayra. What happened was Sayra didn't like my ideas for the project and we weren't working well together.

Even though me and Charlee felt discouraged, we went up to Sayra and told her how we felt. She apologized, and when we did our big presentation it went great, and all because we communicated and worked together.

An Effective communicator means connecting with people in any way!

Lessons I learned are that if i'm struggling with something its best to tell someone so I can have help.
