AP World History Summer Reading Assignment.

Objective: Students will read Chapters 7 through 12 of McGraw-Hill's AP Achiever: World History prior to the first day of school. These chapters provide essential context on classical civilizations, belief systems, and transregional exchange networks—laying the groundwork for our exploration of global patterns and connections in the ancient and postclassical worlds. This reading will prepare students to engage critically with the major themes of early world history from a comparative and analytical perspective.
