Hi.

Good questions. I can answer technical questions, but not these so I have forwarded them to the business office for review/answers on your behalf. I will be in touch when I have heard back.

Hello

I have a question regarding this bid.

Since no installation, labor, or other onsite services are required with this bid, I am questioning the strict insurance requirements attached to this bid. None of our staff will ever be present on school's properties. All deliveries happen by common carrier. So auto insurance should be irrelevant. And a $5,000,000 umbrella policy should also not be required, at least certainly to that high a level. Workers comp should also be irrelevant.

Thank you.
