Dear Lawrenceville School Community,

As summer begins, we are pleased to share an update on the search for Lawrenceville's 14th Head of School.

Since our last communication in April, the Search Committee has remained actively engaged and made meaningful progress.

- Our partners at Spencer Stuart have been reaching out to education leaders nationwide to highlight this opportunity. The Search Committee met to review the feedback from our insightful campus conversations and the community survey, and to assess candidate profiles. We are encouraged by the strong interest from accomplished leaders across the country and by the enthusiasm for Lawrenceville.
- The Committee will continue its work throughout the summer. In the coming weeks, members will speak with leading candidates about their academic leadership, accomplishments, and vision, while also exploring their interest in Lawrenceville's distinctive mission and aspirations. Following those conversations, the Committee will identify candidates for deeper discussion and continued engagement.

While important steps remain, we are encouraged by the progress in identifying Lawrenceville's next head of school and look forward to sharing further updates as the search continues.

As always, the Search Committee and our partners at Spencer Stuart welcome comments, suggestions, or nominations. You can reach the Committee at LawrencevilleHOS@spencerstuart.com.

Sincerely,
