WHO WE ARE

Caring for someone with a neurodegenerative disease can be exhausting. We understand-- and we are here to make it a little easier.

Our team of Speech-Language Pathologists (SLPs) are communication and cognitive specialists who support individuals with these conditions.

We create engaging experiences for your loved one-- and provide you with a little breathing room.

While your loved one participates in our specialized groups for aphasia, dementia, and other neurodegenerative conditions, caregivers can connect and find support in their own dedicated sessions.
