The twelfth-grade curriculum features a study of British Literature. Over the summer, you will read one classic and one non-fiction text. I always suggest utilizing a paper copy, but in case you do not have access to a paper copy, I have included digital links to the books.

Read the following by the first day of school:

1. Fiction text: The Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde by Robert Louis Stevenson

- A test on the novella (short novel) will be administered upon your return to school.
- https://www.gutenberg.org/files/43/43-h/43-h.htm

2. For the non-fiction text, read ONE of the following:

- Tuesdays with Morrie by Mitch Albom
  This book follows Mitch Albom as he visits his professor who is fighting Lou Gehrig's disease.

OR

- Callings: The Purpose and Passion of Work by Dave Isay
  This book follows professionals in various occupations. The stories demonstrate how jobs can transform into callings.
- No free digital copy available – if you find one send me the link!

An essay assignment related to your book choice (Tuesdays with Morrie OR Callings) will be completed upon your return to school.

☺ HAPPY READING ☺
