

THE DRAMA...

Ember Dutcher (being really dramatic)

Truly. I thought we had something special. A bond. A connection. A mutual understanding. But no. Apparently... I was wrong.

This Saturday is prom. PROM. The event. The night. The moment every high schooler builds their entire personality around for approximately three months...

click below for entire article