Additional information of note

Your athlete will be participating in vigorous physical activity at pre-season cross-country camp.
Some of the running activities take place away from Camp Sloane's grounds and not directly under a coach's supervision. The coach will give safety instructions about being careful in these areas concerning traffic, crossing roads safely, and staying on marked areas.
The team will also have the use of the swimming pool at Camp Sloane, and although this area is under supervision, certain risks associated with swimming are present. Other activities at camp (playing games, sports, etc.) will also take place without a coach always being present.
