Welcome to the Subiaco Family

Dear Subiaco Parents,

Welcome to the Subiaco family.

The Subiaco Parents Association has prepared this guide to help answer common questions and provide support as your family begins this journey. Whether your son is a boarding or day student, we hope these resources help you feel informed, connected, and confident about the experience ahead.

For boarding parents especially, we understand the emotions that come with entrusting your son to a school community away from home. Many of us have stood where you are now. Through God's grace and the care of the Subiaco community, we have watched our sons grow in responsibility, confidence, faith, and respect for others. Surrounded by the Benedictine values of hospitality, prayer, and service, they find not only an education, but a second family.

One of the special strengths of Subiaco is the support shared among students, parents, faculty, and staff. Our boarding students are blessed by the kindness and friendship of day students and their families, who help create a welcoming environment where every young man feels at home. Throughout the year, you will discover a community that cares deeply for one another and is always ready to offer support and encouragement.

Our hope is that this guide answers many of your questions and helps ease any concerns. If you need additional assistance, please contact the Parents Association or our Director of Family Engagement, at dpost@subi.org. We also encourage you to connect through the Subiaco Academy parent Facebook groups, the Academy website, social media channels, and the Subiaco Academy App.

Thank you for entrusting your son to the care of the Subiaco family. We look forward to sharing this journey with you.

Sincerely,

The Subiaco Parents Association
