

Glad you're here, TTVA Families

September 1, 2026, is the start of a brand new school year! A new year means a fresh start and an opportunity to reset attendance routines. Let's make excellent attendance a goal for the 26-27 school year!

Three reasons why attendance matters

Students feel stressed when they miss instruction or fall behind on work due to absences.

Lower achievement can result from irregular attendance, affecting test scores and grades.

Routine and consistency of daily attendance helps students feel connected to their community.

Defining absences, according to Oregon law and board policy

Excused ✓

- Illness, injuries, or related appointments, including mental health
- Family death or serious illness
- Leave for students who have parents in the military
- Religious and cultural holidays
- Court
- School-related activities

Unexcused ⊗

- Unknown reasons
- Vacations
- Any reason not listed as "excused"
