

MEET YOUR ART TEACHER MRS. COSTES

ABOUT ME

TEACHING BACKGROUND

I earned my bachelors (art and education) and Masters degrees (Curriculum) at Saint Michael's College. In 2017, I studied art at the international institute Lorenzo de' Medici in Florence, Italy where I explored hand building with clay, art history, and oil painting. In the summer, I teach a heroes, art and social justice graduate course.

I'll be away on maternity leave for the first semester this year. We're expecting a baby boy in August!

I spend my time visiting my family in Cape Cod, exploring Vermont, and visiting far away friends. I'm trying to go to all 251 towns in Vermont, I'm at 133 so far. I love making my own art, gardening, and cooking! I have a cat named Earl!

PHILOSOPHY

I love stretching art learning across content areas, integrating with social emotional learning and social justice. Helping students find their artistic identity and make art that is important to them is a joy for me! Students in my space strike a balance between playfully exploring materials and honing in their artistic skills to make meaningful art.
