US Department of Education announces new interagency agreements

The US Department of Education announced yesterday that it has added four new interagency agreements with the Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) and the Department of Justice (DOJ). The DOJ partnerships will focus on civil rights enforcement, student privacy, and training and advisory services. The HHS partnership will focus on special education and rehabilitative services.

We are continuing to update the information on our resource page for the new requirements for part-time programs for homeschool students.
