Dedication

At this writing, we have occupied the new building one week--with the first day of classes being held on February 11, 1974. I wish that each of you could have shared in the experience of that move. You would have been proud--as I'm sure each student, parent, teacher, and worker was. The transformation that took place from Friday--the day of student registration--to Monday morning, 8:00 a.m.--when classwork resumed--can only be described as being "slightly-short-of-magic".

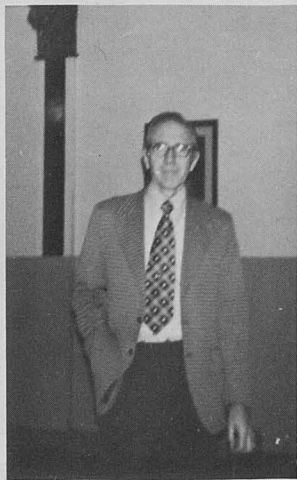

Challenges are not new to this Staff and Student Body. In addition to the above, they experienced the disappointment of not having their new building in the fall as scheduled. Yet, in their relocation, they worked together in the development of a 7th and 8th Grade program that many were reluctant to leave.

The Staff and Students of the Joseph Robidoux Middle School appreciate the opportunity and challenge of being the first to occupy the new building provided by you and named in remembrance of Joseph Robidoux--the founder of our city.
