"My Prediction of What Michigan City Will Be Like in 2026"

The topic of the following essay will be my prediction of what Michigan City will be like in the year 2026.

The topics that will be included are government and energy, housing and transportation, education and religion, and sports and recreation. I will attempt to create a slight insight concerning these topics. Also, I will use my imagination along with the data I have collected.

This paragraph explains what this essay will be about concerning what I predict Michigan City will be like in 2026.

What will government and energy be like in the year 2026?

I have pondered this question and I believe government will be more computerized and advanced compared to what its like now.

Energy will probably come mostly from the sun, as we are presently experimenting with solar energy.

Both these topics will practically change completely in the future.

This paragraph attempts to answer the question "what will government and energy be like in the year 2026?"

The following paragraph will discuss housing and transportation in the future. If a person from from the present age could somehow transport himself ahead in time, he would probably find himself living in a bubble house underneath the earth's surface. Or, he might end up transporting himself in an electric car or with other passengers in a monorail.

Technology of the future will be very much advanced in the field of housing and transportation. This paragraph has discussed what my hypothesis of what housing and transportation will be like in the future.

Education and religion, most likely, will not be like it is now. Education may well be in the terms of computers, electronic video recording, and other technological devices. Religion may or may not be on a personal basis, as there may be a universal church, where, by law, everyone has to attend. Both education may not be quite as personal as it is now. This paragraph gives my prediction of what education and religion will be like in the year 2026.

Sports and recreation, in the future, will be different from what we think of it as being. There is no concrete hypothesis of what kinds of sports there will be, but I assume, they will be electronically obsolete that the sports we know of now. Recreation, I don't suppose, will be on a personal basis, but it may be a little similar to what it is now.

Both sports and recreation may well be a government-planned project. The preceding paragraph creates a small insight of what sports and recreation may be like in the year 2026.

The following paragraph offers a conclusion to the question asked previously "What I predict Michigan City will be like in the year 2026." I have given a slight insight of what my opinion the answer to this question is. It is not that difficult to hypothesize something if you use your imagination and collect data. I have enjoyed looking into the future at things people of this time and generation would marvel at. This paragraph concludes this essay in answering the question "What will Michigan City be like in 2026?"
