School-Based Health Clinic gets the spotlight during national conference

Staff from the School-Based Health Clinic in Haysville, including Elizabeth Lewis, M.D., clinical assistant professor in the Department of Pediatrics at KU School of Medicine-Wichita; Krista Weaver, APRN; Angela Windham; and Linda Long, recently presented during the 35th annual conference for the National Association for the Education of Homeless Children and Youth. They got positive feedback from the audience, including requests to tour the clinic in person.

"It was a great representation of our partnership with KU and all the great things we have happening in USD 261," said Long, the clinic coordinator.

School-Based Health Clinics are a partnership between KU School of Medicine-Wichita, the Medical Practice Association and area school districts, bringing an innovative approach to integrating health care and promoting health equity. The clinics bring care to where students are, reducing absenteeism and parents' drive time to address anything from sports injuries and physicals to immediate care and screenings.

Take Away

- USD 261 contributed $138K X 3 years to support primary care clinic 5 half days/week (2021-2024)
- KU added externally funded benefits to support students:
  - Direct psychology time
  - Physician and resident physician time
  - Vaccines at no cost to children who qualify (working on adults)
  - Innovated psychiatric care for HV students
  - Developed afterschool and summer program for ADHD
  - Built in a CHW to support students
  - Nearly $100K/year in additional funding through 2027
- ~$130K/year is needed to cover un/underinsured patients each year and keep primary care clinic open (additional services are all built from primary care clinic)
  - Stronger Connections (KSDE) grant covers this cost through 2026!

Future Plans

- Funding – Stronger Connections Federal Grant awarded to USD #261 $545,240
  - Will fund un/underinsured through 2026 without additional district funds
  - Will add additional psychology time and staff to cover reception
  - Will continue BREATHE programming
  - Will add programming for Haysville High Students
- KU will continue to bring additional funding to the clinic to support
  - Psychology time
  - Interprofessional Child-centered Integrated Care (ICX2 – psychia led mental health care meetings)
  - Physician time
  - Student Advisory Council
  - Additional Infrastructure
  - And More!

Haysville SBHC Primary Care Clinic remains the basis from which all additional programming has arisen and can continue.
