

Buckeye Central Local Schools
Acceptable Use Policy
(Students)

It is the policy of the Buckeye Central Local Schools that all technology used to access the Buckeye Central Local School's network and to access the Internet will be used in a responsible, legal, and ethical manner. This includes all computer and computer resources owned, leased, operated, or contracted by the school district. Students must abide by district technology policies that are outlined in this document along with NEOLA policies 7540, 7540.01, 7540.02, 7540.03, 7540.06, 7540.09, 5500, and 5136. These NEOLA policies can be found on the district website.

The Buckeye Central Local School's computer network is established for educational-related purposes consistent with the mission of the Buckeye Central Local School District. Access to all computer resources is a privilege granted to students. While there are many valuable resources on the Internet, there also are many sites that can be considered inappropriate for students and serve no educational value. Accordingly, the Buckeye Central Local Schools has the legal right to place restrictions on the use of the system, and to require users to abide by system rules. All individuals using the Internet will be under the supervision of the Buckeye Central Local School staff. By using the Buckeye Central Local School's networked information resources, students are agreeing to accept this policy. All users must have a signed Acceptable Use Policy Agreement on file with the school before accessing the Buckeye Central Local School's network, including the Internet. This Acceptable Use Policy Agreement will remain in effect until the student leaves the Buckeye Central School District or until the child's parent or legal guardian terminates the agreement. The parent or legal guardian of the student named in the agreement must notify the school in writing to terminate the said agreement. Students may be asked to sign a new policy to reflect developments in the law or technology.

The Buckeye Central Local Schools uses a filtering system designed to prevent access to educationally inappropriate sites. However, it is important to understand that no solution is perfect and the Buckeye Central Local Schools cannot guarantee that students might not access inappropriate sites. It is the students' responsibility to report any inappropriate site to a teacher. The Buckeye Central Local Schools is not responsible for the accuracy or quality of the information obtained through or stored on the network, and use of any such information is at your own risk. The Buckeye Central Local Schools will not be responsible for financial obligations arising through the use of the Network.

Use of the Buckeye Central Local School's computer network, including Internet access, is a privilege and not a right. It is important for all Buckeye Central Local Schools students and the parents/guardians of students to understand that any violation of the Buckeye Central Local School's Acceptable Use Policy may result in the loss of Internet, computer network, and/or disciplinary action, and/or prosecution under state and federal law.

COPPA (For parents of students under 13 years old)

This section included in the Buckeye Central Local School's Acceptable Use Policy is necessary for the parents of those students who are under 13 years old. The Buckeye Central Local School district seeks to extend and enhance the educational opportunities for students through the use of varying web-based tools and applications. The use of many of these resources by children under the age of 13 is governed by a federal law known as the Children's Online Privacy and Protection Act (COPPA). COPPA "was put in place to protect kids' personal information on websites and online services – including apps – that are directed to children under 13. The Rule also applies to a general audience site that knows it's collecting personal information from kids that age." (www.ftc.gov) Under COPPA, these websites must provide parental notification and obtain parental consent before collecting personal information from children under the age of 13.

Our district utilizes computer software applications and web-based services, operated not by this school, but by third parties. In order for our students to use these programs and services, certain personal identifying information – generally the student's name and school-provided email address – must be provided to the website operator.

The law permits schools to obtain parental consent to the collection of personal information on behalf of all of its students, thereby eliminating the need for individual parental consent to be given directly to the website operator of each web-based learning application.

Signing this form will give parental consent for the district to provide personal identifying information for your child consisting of first name, last name, an email address, and a username to our associated web-based applications as appropriate for school-related purposes.

Remote Learning

Remote Learning activities are an essential part of many teachers' classroom instruction. Remote Learning activities are brought into the classroom from a remote location. It gives the students experiences that they would get from a traditional field trip right in their classroom. Due to the special nature of remote learning activities, students are able to see and talk to the presenter and/or other students at other schools who are involved in the remote learning activity. In addition, the presenter and other students at other schools can see and talk to our students. On the acceptable use policy authorization form, there will be a signature required for you to allow your student to participate in remote learning activities.

Artificial Intelligence Tools for School Work

Students are required to follow the AI policies and guidelines in these NEOLA policies which are listed on the district website: 7540.03, 7540.09, and 5500.

Personal Communication Devices

Students are required to follow the Personal Communication Devices policy and guidelines in NEOLA policy 5136 which can be found on the district website.
