CARMEN CALDERON

DOG GROOMER & BUSINESS OWNER
LITERACY, HIGH SCHOOL EQUIVALENCY,
& ADULT EDUCATION GRADUATE

Spanish is Carmen Calderon's first language. She came to the United States from El Salvador when she was 19, married and started a family. When her children started school, so did Calderon. She enrolled in a series of ESBOCES programs – Literacy, GED®, Dog Grooming – to pursue her dream of working as a groomer and owning her own business.

"I've wanted to be a dog groomer since I was a teenager but I needed to learn English to take the courses," she explained. Today, she grooms three days a week at the Fur Machine in Ronkonkoma, and has private clients she sees at her home-based business, Canine Grooming Corp.

"I plan to grow my business while being there for my young children. I want the freedom to design my own schedule."
