Poll Results: Summer Edition

During this month, if you notice, the Newspaper seminar hung up a poll called “Would you rather! (Summer edition).” A total of 170 PEOPLE VOTED!!! There were three would you rather questions, and you were allowed to vote on all of them. Most people did, but not everyone.

The first one was would you rather the beach or the water park. 28 people voted beach and 43 voted waterpark, having a total of 71 votes. The next one was would you rather ice cream or popsicles. Ice cream won with a total of 30 more votes than popsicles, ice cream had 39 while popsicles had 9, having a total of 48 votes. Last one was would you rather picnic or BBQ. Picnic came in the finish with 31 votes and BBQ came with 20 votes.

Looks like everyone is gonna have a fun summer!

Field Day Suggestions

- Teams line up single-file, with each student holding the ankles of the person in front. They must walk in sync to the finish line without breaking the "chain".
- Runners must hold a sheet of newspaper flat against their chest using only the air pressure created by their speed. If the paper falls, they must stop and reposition it.
- Students fill a plastic cup with pre-drilled holes, balance it over their head (or pass it down a line), and try to fill a team bucket with whatever water remains.
- Players sit on scooters holding laundry baskets while teammates pull them with ropes. They grab as many balls from the center as possible before time runs out.
- One player is blindfolded while teammates verbally guide them to stack cups, build a tower, or complete a puzzle.
- teams pass water down a line using tiny cups or sponges trying to fill a bucket at the end.
- Kids must wear giant flip-flops or oversized shoes while completing relay tasks.
- Players stand on balance beams, pool floats, or taped squares and try to knock each other off using pool noodles.
- Players stand on balance beams, pool floats, or taped squares and try to knock each other off using pool noodles.
- Teams build mini catapults from popsicle sticks/rubber bands and launch marshmallows at targets.
