| 6648 | 1000.22.4230.400.900.005.1624 | | 4 | 640.00 | RTU 15 NOT COOLING Visit Resolution: 8/31/23 s.d. Call of RTU 15 not cooling. Checked RTU operation and found compressor's locked out on high pressure switches. Checked condenser fan motors and found all 3 fans inoperable. 1 fan has been quoted for replacement. Will need two additional motors, brackets, blades and contacts. I was able to free up 2 of the seized motors and found bearings very noisy. Cycled compressors but I feel they will trip again until repairs can be made. | | | |

Ran unit through different operating sequences and found when in morning warmup that unit would rise above set points but would even out as it runs. Control tech would have to rewrite operating sequence to get more of an even operation of unit. Checked mua1 mechanical operation of found no alarms or mechanical issues. | 1,280.00 | | |

Problem Description: RTU 4 CHECK Visit Resolution: 9/6/23 s.d. Asked to check RTU 4. Checked RTU and found only 1 of 4 condenser fan motors running. Checked electrical circuit and found that 3 motors had single phased due to broken wire which jumps from motor to motor. Repaired wiring and was able to get 2nd motor to operate. Attempted to free up 2 remaining seized motors without success. Cycled compressor 1 on and obtained a 14 degree split across system. Locked compressor 2 out until it can be repaired. I was also able to get heat wheel motor to operate but motor is showing signs of burn out and should be replaced.

| 7723 | 1000.30.4230.400.800.005.1626 | | 7 | | Problem Description: EXHAUST FAN 1 NOT WORKING Visit Resolution: 8/30/23 s.d. Asked to check operation of in line fan 1 for dishwasher. Checked unit and found belt cracked and motor running. Picked up 2 belts. ( 1 spare). Installed and adjusted belt tension and alignment. Greased all bearings. Cycled unit on and confirmed amperage and CT closure. Fan is running but showing an alarm on Bms system . Control technician will need to determine cause of alarm. 8-31-23 Chris Cairns I wanted to update you on the exhaust fan 1 alarm issue. I managed to remote into the BMS system and took a close look at it. Despite my efforts, I wasn't able to clear the alarm by forcing the point on and off. I also inspected the logic of the controller and it seems to be reading correctly. Based on what I could test remotely, it seems more like a hardware-related problem. I've exhausted all remote troubleshooting options, so I've added this to my deficiency list. I plan to investigate further during my September PM. Here's what I'm planning to test in order to resolve this issue: 1. Verify the CT contact closure is successfully reaching the Controller. 2. Confirm the functionality of the controller input. 3. Attempt a soft reset of the controller using my map tool. I'll keep you posted on my progress and findings. If you have any insights or suggestions, please feel free to share. | 1,120.00 | | |

| 9113 | 8300.22.3400.400.900.005.2940 | 1 | Greg: WI Cooler - Repaired walk in cooler. The compressor was running and it was in a vacuum upon arrival. Box temperature at 55 degrees. Liquid line solenoid was open. Cycled the thermostat on and off a couple times to actuate the liquid line solenoid. After doing that, the running pressures went back to normal. Suspect ice had formed in the valve or the expansion valve. Site glass indicated moisture in the system. Recovered refrigerant and replaced filter drier and site glass. Applied vacuum pump. I had to change vacuum pump oil multiple times. New oil was immediately contaminated with moisture. Charged system back up. Box down to 37 degrees when I left. Pressure relief valve was new and plumber had replaced it. I drained the boiler and removed pressure relief valve. Found debris in the valve which would not let it close. Cleaned valve and removed bottom two heating elements from boiler. Boiler had about 2" of debris in the bottom. Vacuumed out debris and flushed the boiler out. Booster heater working properly again. Notified them if pressure relief valve kept popping, we would have to replace thermostat and hi limit safety. Temperature is fine at 185F. | 495.00 | | |

| 13683 | 1000.11.4220.400.800.005.1604 | 2.5 | Ivestigated a reported issue by Ryanna in the gym. There is water coming down even when it doesn't rain and she thinks at has to do with the peak of the shingle roof. We set up safety and performed an investigation. The only thing we can surmise is that the louvers are not sufficient enough to ventilate the air rising to the roof level, creating condensation when mixed with the air from the AHU. Our onsite techs recommend having a ridge vent installed, where the existing ridge cap is. The office will look over this information and come up with a plan to address. We also walked the roof and noticed the gutter that was blown off due to wind damage. A proposal for this has already been submitted. | 262.50 | | |
