SEPTEMBER EDITION

What is PBIS?

Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports (PBIS) is an evidence-based three-tiered framework to improve social, emotional , and academic outcomes for students.

Tier 1: Supports to all students (E.g. SEL Classroom lessons)

Tier 2: Practices and support for students that need additional help (E.g. Small Group)

Tier 3: Individual, students that have the highest need (E.g. Individual Supports)

DECEMBER EDITION

Positive Routines and Managing Common Difficulties

Routines provide children with structure and stability. They help students with a sense of security and build self-confidence. Children learn to take charge of their own activities. Routines can reduce power struggles and help children cooperate.

For example, bedtime is a very important routine because it is important that children get enough sleep. Children who get enough sleep have better attention, behavior, learning, memory, emotion regulation, and mental/physical health.

Upcoming Events

- Dec. 12- Cardinal Store
- Dec. 15-PBIS Team Meeting

Be Positive

Effective Discipline

Discipline teaches responsibility, respect, and self-control. It is about guiding behavior not punishment.

Positive Discipline: Encourages cooperation and communication.
Gentle Discipline: Redirects and explains without harsh consequences.
Boundary-Based Discipline: Sets clear rules and enforces consistent consequences.
Authoritative Discipline: Balances warmth with firm expectations.
