COLUMBUS

Museums for All: Columbus

If you receive Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) benefits, we invite you to experience the wonders of Columbus museums at little or no cost.

Museums for All is a national initiative designed to remove financial barriers and make cultural experiences accessible to everyone. In Columbus, six museums have joined forces to create one of the few Museums for All Hub Cities, ensuring everyone has the opportunity to enjoy art, history, science, and more.

How does it work?
Each museum offers different benefits. Check out the details below and visit each museum's website for the most accurate information:
