

MEET MR. ALEXEY, ELD TEACHER

INTRODUCTION

Hello multilingual families!

My name is Alexey Kuznetsov, and I am an English Language Development teacher. I work with students who need support with the 4 language skills: listening, speaking, reading, and writing in English. I am starting my second year here at Northwood.

I come from Moscow, Russia. I started tutoring kids and adults while in college, and taught at a public school in Moscow, Russia. Since immigrating to the US in 2014, I have worked in Renton and Bellevue. I am a member of various professional organizations, where advocate for bilingual programs in public schools in Washington. I regularly present on the topics of multicultural and inclusive education.

EDUCATION

My degree in Linguistics and Teaching English and German is from Moscow State Pedagogical University, (2011).

I trained as a teacher of Russian at Pushkin State University in Moscow, Russia, in 2014. I love learning and have over 60 credits from UW.

FACTS&FAVORITES

I speak English, Russian, a little German and Spanish.

As a kid, I lived for 2 years in Congo (DRC), Africa.

I like traveling, city photography, and trying new foods.

MULTICULTURAL TEACHING PHILOSOPHY

Multilingualism and multiculturalism are essential parts of our learners' identities. They have unique skills and knowledge that our school community would like to cherish and nurture, while helping them navigate and transform anglophone spaces.
