HAPPY BIRTHDAY AMERICA

Dear Mr. Draves,
I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for two of the most enjoyable classes in my life. Cal Dale was great. Its always fun to meet a Doctor with a sense of humor. Take the care of yourself during summer and never get mixed up with your Bsh.

Must love your #1 student for a whole month.

Bill Kerne

P.S. I'll take you up on that guest lecture.

Mr. Graves,
Happy Vacation!
Looking forward to next year.

This was a good year. This was the first class I played a fisherman and Emperor. I really came up in society. It took me long enough. I still say Irish people are the superior race. Hope to come back next year if you let me. Snicker Snicker.

I came up in society more than he did. From a lowly Stinkpolish "Roga!!" Goatherder to a near admiral and a right hand man to the emperor. See you next year as your number one Polish student.

St. Joseph & Notre Dame Reflections 1975-76 Alameda, California

We, the students, dedicate this yearbook to Sr. Dorothy Marie and Mr. Anthony Aiello, whose efforts have given us pride in our schools, in ourselves, and in each other.

J.M.J. A.M.D.G.

A Year Book in this eventful Bicentennial Year of our Nation's existence will render it more memorable and cherished for years to come. From 1776 until this December we have chronicled one hundred and forty-years of a startling material progress which catapulted our Nation into a spectacular era of material accomplishment. The citizens of our land have also enjoyed full freedom of religion, freedom of speech, freedom from fear, freedom from want. We have a more representative government than any major nation on earth. These blessings are due principally to the spirit of the early Pilgrims and the Founding Fathers. The Catholic Faith is interwoven into this history and Catholic scholars like Robert Bellarmine and statesmen like John Carroll had a noteworthy part in the setting up of this government.

To witness the Holy Year and the Bicentennial Year back to back during high school days is an experience that stimulates the sense of history and inspires an ambitious resolve to make history in the years ahead. Our Founding Fathers and early settlers were very religious. They had a deep faith, strengthened by their closeness to Nature and Nature's God. Theirs was not an anonymous society. Each person was known and held accountable.

Our forebearers in the Faith worked and suffered and had a major part in the upbuilding of national morale as well as spiritual standards. Mindful of these happy and holy accomplishments, the youth of today should remember that what made America great can make America even greater. The forthcoming generation may well avoid any and all threats to make America small.

Let the Torch of Faith burn bright; let the Book of Knowledge enlighten us; let the Flag of our Land fly high; and may our Holy Faith serve to make you the most exemplary of citizens and the most worthy of the blessings God bestows on America!

FACULTY

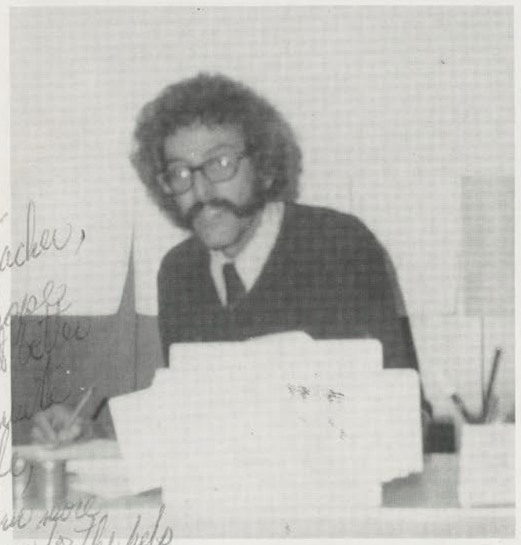

To Form A More Perfect Union

Sister Dorothy Marie, Principal, Latin, Math
"I try to plan a program that will meet the needs of individual students and develop Catholic leadership."

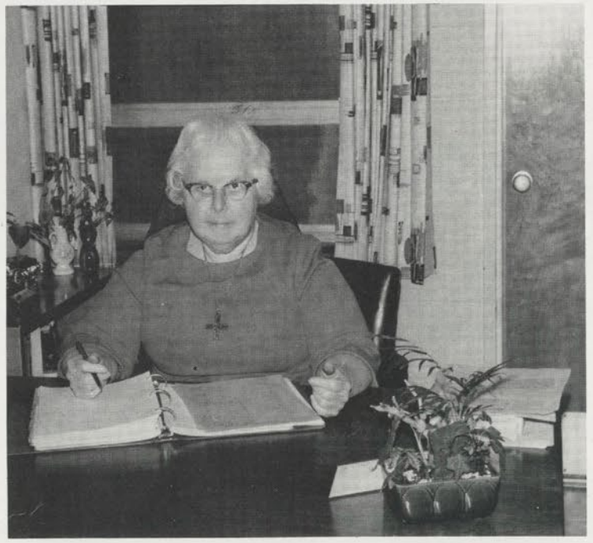

Mr. Anthony Aiello, Principal, Social Studies
"To assist the student in realizing and appreciating his potential as a person and to grow and develop that potentiality within the context of a Catholic-Christian environment and experience."

Mr. Philip Gravem, Vice Principal, History, Geography
"Parental love is the only kind of love that should grow towards separation. Being a teacher is like having a family of 300; and graduation is that painful separation. Yet within those four short years we've shared enough anxieties, excitement, sorrows, and successes to keep those memories bright for a long time."

Sister Marie Celine,
Dean of Girls, Chemistry, Physiology, Geometry
"To instruct in Chemistry, Physiology, and Geometry, and to maintain effective discipline as Dean."

"To form a more perfect union, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare." These are the aims of our administration. From organizing activities to planning schedules, our administration works hard to create a closer bond between the schools.

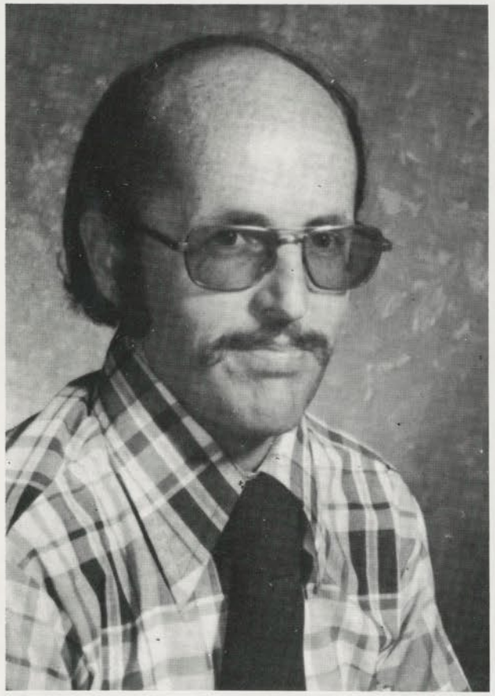

How to Promote General Welfare?

"In my English classes I endeavor to further the students' skills in communicating their thoughts clearly in speech and writing. I hope to develop their appreciation for the literature that reflects the timeless struggles, ideals, and aspirations of mankind."

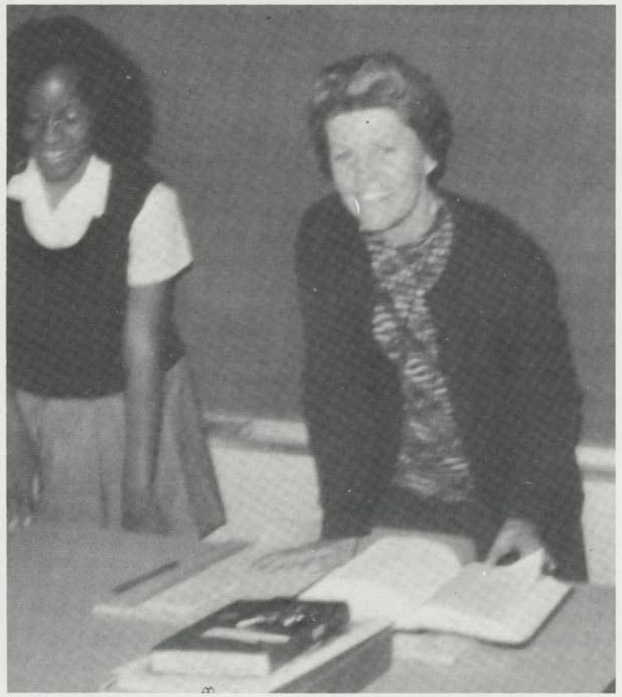

Sister Catherine Theresa, English, Religion

Mr. James Creighton, English, Leadership
"To help the person experience both the reflection and the depth of the pool."

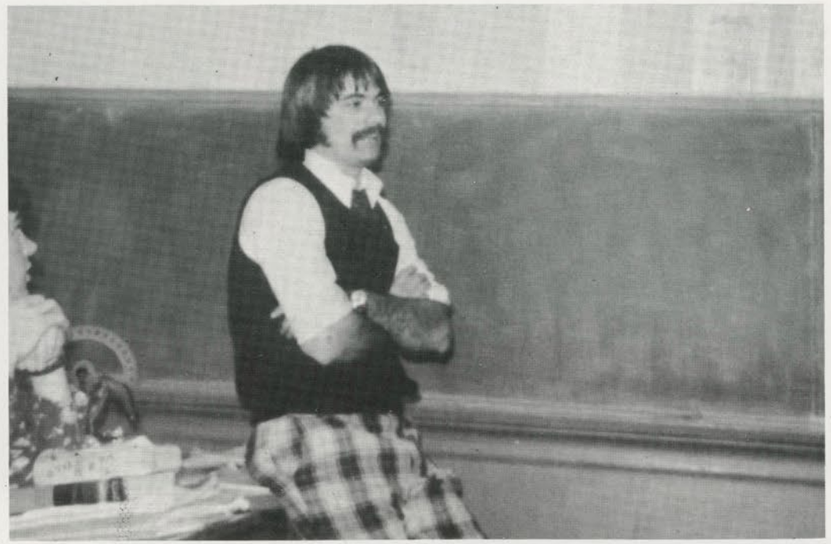

Sister Carol Kenning, English, Speech, Religion
"I am trying to assist the students to discover in literature the wonder of human nature and to achieve some skill in the painstaking process of communicating their discovery."

Sister Mary Elizabeth
English, Guidance
"Assisting students to acquire basic skills of English."

Mr. William Vosburg, English, Geometry
"I try to exert a positive and enthusiastic attitude, and to take a genuine interest in as many individuals as possible."

Ms. Maria Moore, English
"That state of life is most happy where superfluities are not wanting."

Ms. Georgia Vlahos, English, Speech
"I listen and then react - in that order! 'If a teacher is indeed wise he does not bid you to enter the house of his wisdom, but rather leads you to the threshold of your own mind.' " (Gibran)

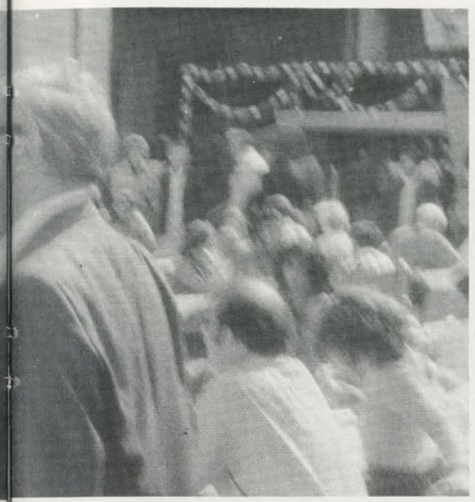

From classic to contemporary, from poetry to prose, from fact to fiction, students move through the required reading led by their experienced teachers. Through creative writing, short story contests, and essays, students learn to express themselves creatively and clearly.

Sister Elizabeth Mary
Religion, Language Arts, Guidance

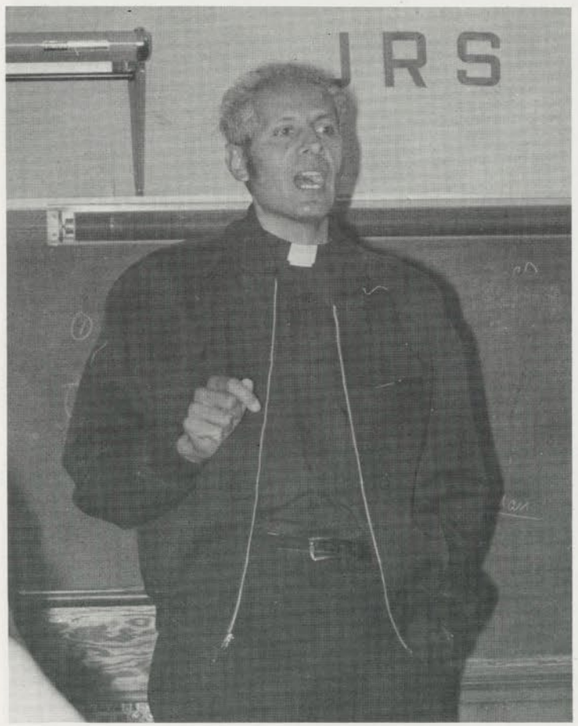

Father John O'Reilly, Religion
"I would like to convince my students that we come from God and will go back to Him again; 'We have not here a lasting city, we look for one to come.'"

Religion Works for Students

Among the most important classes in the Notre Dame-St. Joseph curriculum is Religion. Besides being the foundation for both schools, it offers spiritual guidance for all students as individuals. As the Math and Science Departments help the students to understand facts and figures, so the Religion Department works to help the students to establish a better understanding of God and themselves.

Father Guadalupe Sanchez, Religion, Spanish
"By attempting to convince them that God really loves them as they are. Each student is unique and loveable."

Mr. Jack Gordon, Religion

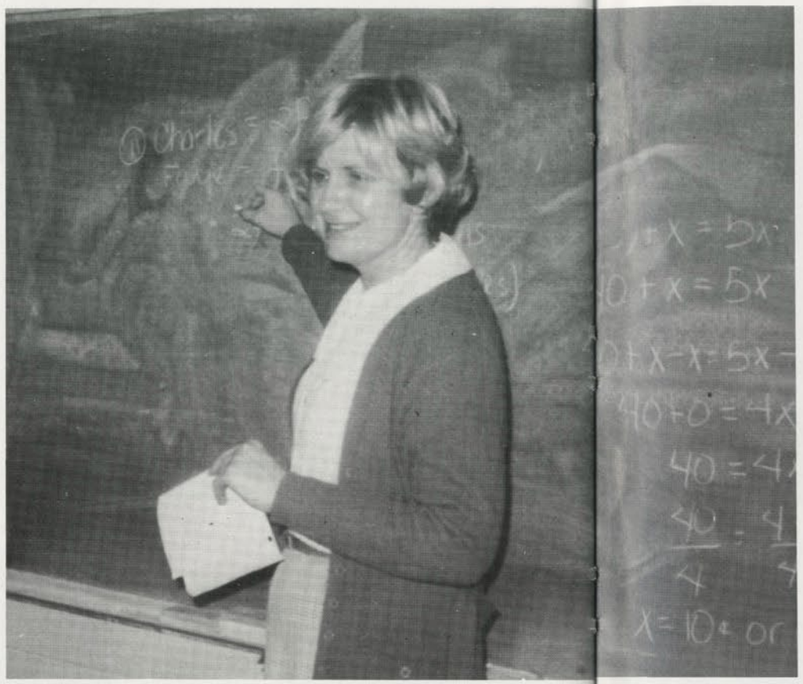

Sister Phyllis Cook, Religion, Math I
"To help each student rejoice in the goodness of God in her own life and freely share that goodness with others."

The Challenges of Life

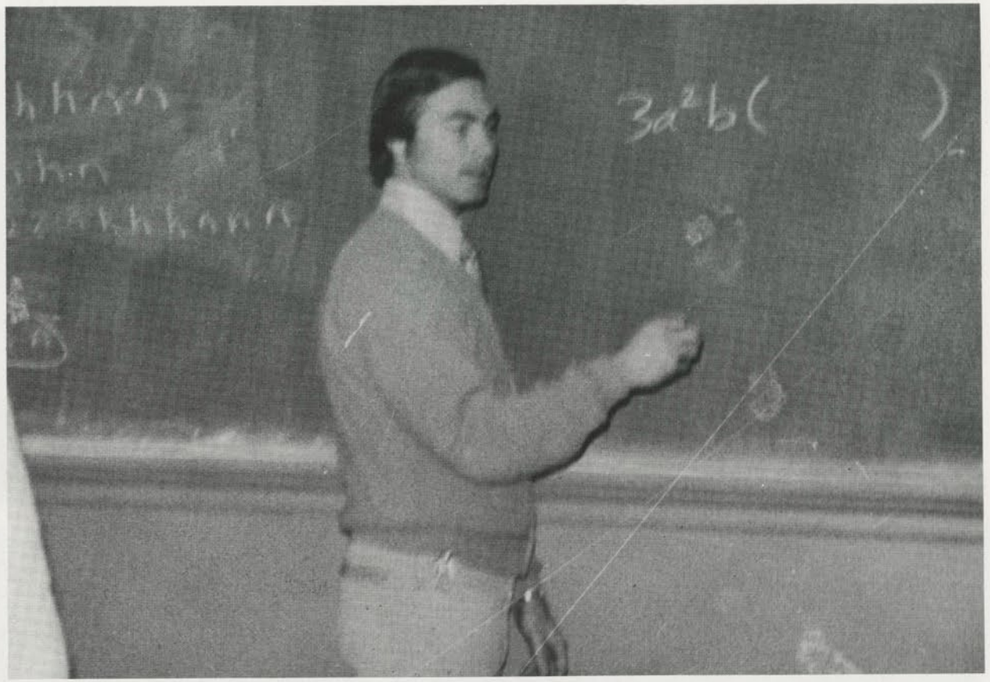

Math and Science, often considered the two most difficult subjects, have been made easier through the efforts of the Math and Science Departments. With classes ranging from Biology to Chemistry, Math I to Math Analysis, and Mr. Curran imitating the "Amazing Kreskin", students taking any of these subjects will find an interesting challenge ahead of them.

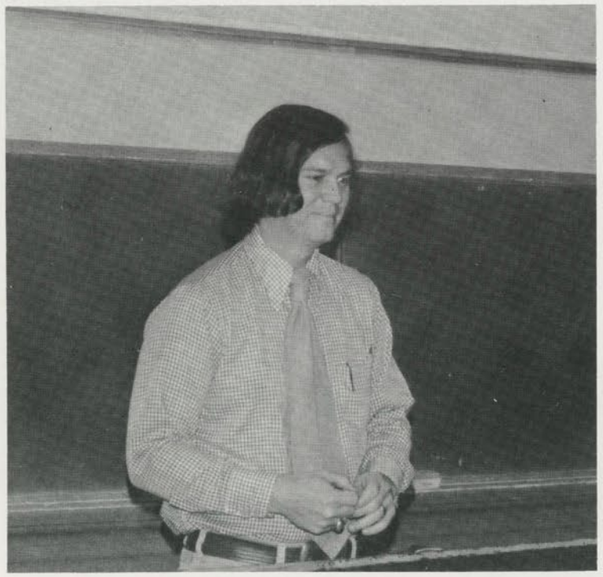

Miss Mary Ellen Brady, Math "Even the woodpecker owes his success to the fact that he uses his head and keeps pecking away until he finishes the job he starts."

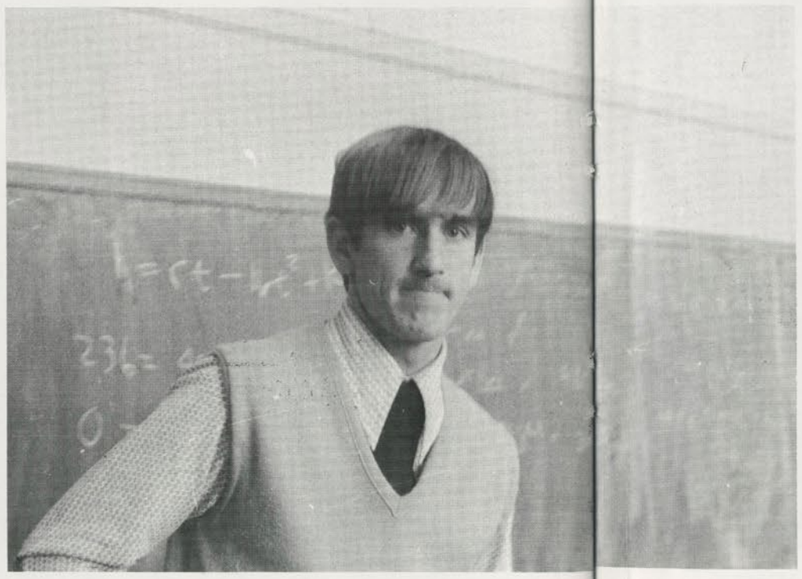

Mr. Michael Phelps, Math, P.E.

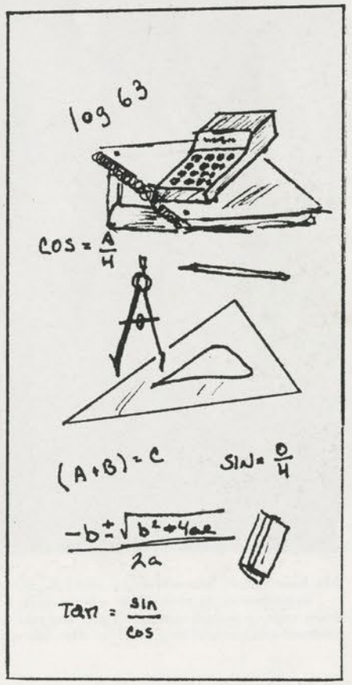

Mr. Milton Werner, Biology, Advanced Biology
"I would hope that students leave my class at the end of the year having climbed at least one step higher in their ability to understand the world around them and how they fit in it."

Mr. James Curran, Math
"There are only three things certain in life, death, taxes, and math homework."

Mrs. Gail Rodrigues, P.E., Math
"By building strong minds and healthy bodies."

Miss Concha Castellanos, Spanish, Biology

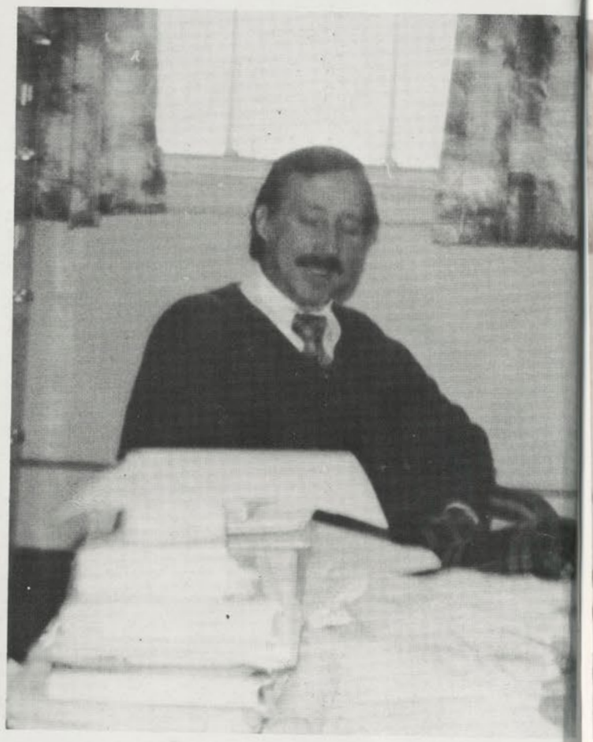

Ms. Mary Molinari, Italian, French

Ms. Rose Sartori, Spanish
"By promoting an atmosphere wherin exists a reciprocal impartation of knowledge - a mutual sharing - 'a give and take situation on both sides.' Both students and teachers have much to offer, learn, and share with each other."

Mr. Robert Sickenger, French, Counselor
"To develop in my students the ability to place in perspective the events which shape the world in which they live, and to make them aware of the contribution which they themselves can make to society."

Sister Miriam Dolores, Latin I, Library
"To administrate the library, moderate Student Council, and guide beginners in Latin I."

Express Yourself!

While the Foreign Language and Art Departments are totally separate, they are joined together by their creativity. Foreign Language teaches a completely new concept in speaking and thinking. Art allows the students to express themselves through drawing, prints, etc. Together these two departments make up part of the group electives.

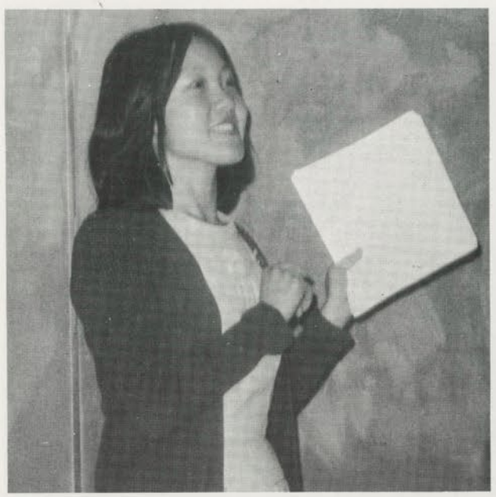

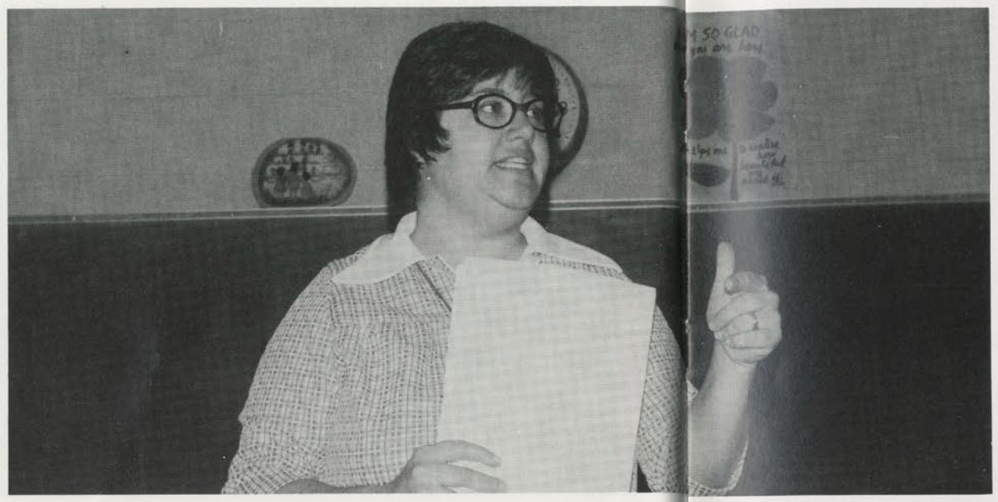

Ms. Mary Kay Wesolek, Art, U.S. History
"I appreciate the students' worth as individuals and encourage them to appreciate themselves and each other."

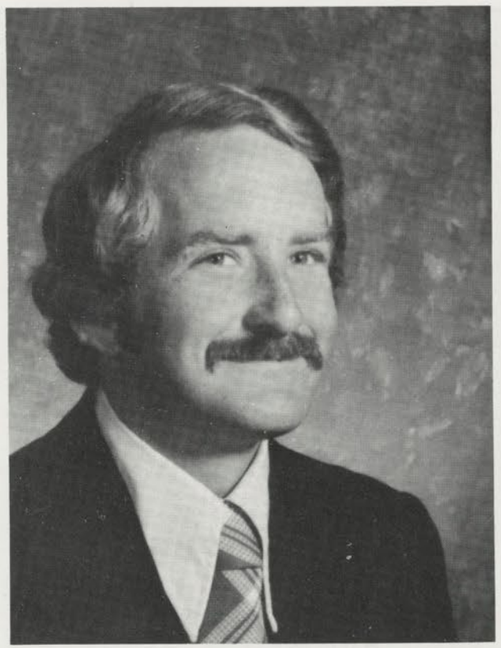

Mr. Art Richardson, Mechanical Drawing, Art

Teresa Hom, Social Studies
"There is a kind of release that comes directly to those who have undergone an ordeal and who know, having survived it, that they are equal to all of life's occasions."

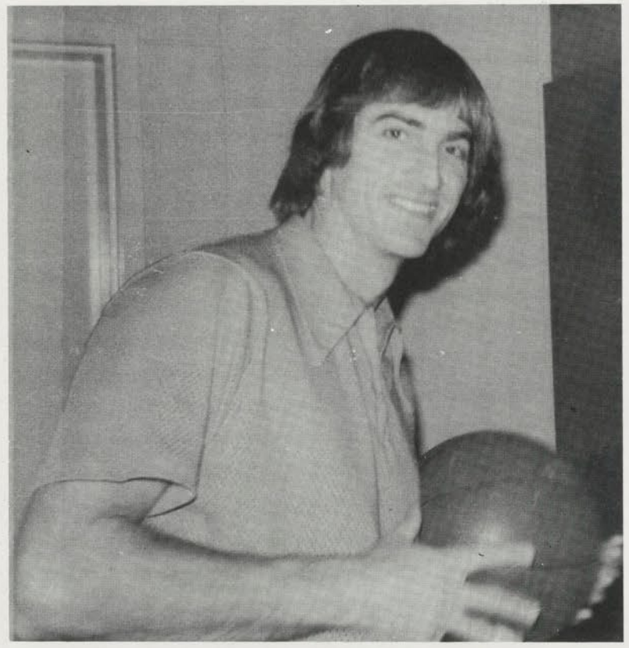

Sister Johanne, Career Life Planning

Mr. Barry Weiss, History

Mr. Paul Phelps, P.E.

Mrs. Caroline Erbele, Business
"Train students for beginning office jobs."

Mrs. Bessie Reeves, Music.

Mrs. Clare Hanna, Home Economics
"I feel I help promote the general welfare of the students by offering them an opportunity to develop skills and an appreciation of "good" line, color, design, fashion as well as career opportunities in the related fields of Home Economics."

A Salute to Typewriters, Brooms, Kitchens

For the gracious way they handle a heavy work load and some 580 teenagers seeking books, class passes, band aids, and other miscellaneous things, the secretarial staff deserves special thanks. Along with the maintenance men and the dietician, these staffs form the backbone of the schools.

Parents Lend A Helping Hand

St. Joseph High School Board, established in 1969, has served to assist and sustain the high school in cooperation and coordination with the parish of St. Joseph High School. The board is composed of laymen and women representing the school community.

The board reviews school policy and budgeting and under the direction of the Pastor of St. Joseph's establishes and implements that policy, to continue and to realize the goal of Catholic education within the parish and the community.

Members: Mr. Ronald Scalise, Pres., Mr. James Kelly, V.P., Mrs. Vi Cary, Sec., Mr. Richard Gregory, Mr. Louis K. Henderson, Mr. Robert Hopping, Mr. Andrew Jennings, Judge George McDonald, Mr. Michael Morton, Mr. Martin O'Connell, Mrs. Delaine Picinich, Mr. and Mrs. Herb Robles, Mr. Richard Schacht. St. Joseph and Notre Dame High School Parents' Groups are organizations whereby all parents are members. Active membership is encouraged through the attendance of quarterly meetings, school functions (Report Card and Back to School Nights, athletic events, and fund raisers. Both high schools are indebted to their parents whose esprit de corps is most evident and appreciated.

St. Joseph's Club has aided the school through its efforts, such as the Little Reno Night which provided necessary monies for the purchase of audio-visual and office equipment, classroom furniture, and the budget for the speech and debate club.

Officers: Mr. Robert Hopping, Pres., Mr. and Mrs. Martin Durante, Co-Veeps, Mrs. Ronald Long, Treas. Class Representatives: Mrs. James Duncan, Mrs. Patrick O'Connor, Mrs. Lou Agnew, Mrs. Samuel Reeves, Mrs. Leonard Cressy, Mrs. Robert Giron, Mrs. Dermot Dundon, Mrs. Kenneth Hoeschen.

The monthly Hot Lunch program, prepared and served by the mothers, is just one example of the services of the much-appreciated Parents' Club. We apologize that photographic difficulties prevented us from including pictures.

In Memoriam

He walked with a bit of a stoop,
And when he raised his hands
they shook.
His speech was course and slurred;
The meaning was distorted by words.
He stumbled by, amid the swiftness
of youth,
Pushing a barrel of the day's refuse.
And our ears and hearts to him were mute.

He trudged along in a world of suffering,
The suffering his own.
But he bore life's iniquities,
Bore them all alone.

Never again will I step aside,
When he pushes his burden by.
For ne'er will he pass this way again.
Clarence has met his peaceful end
And gone is he to a new life of love,
To a home in heaven above.

Foxy, Fine - Class of '79

That was the theme of the freshman class during Spirit Week. Freshman spirit soared as the largest class in the school ran away with first place in the Spirit Week competition and an honorable mention for best decorations. With the many small skits and stunts, the freshman class gained the winning points which put the Class of 1979 on the Spirit Week trophy.

Games People Play

At lunch Sophomores did more than eat. This period was also a time of relaxation and fun. After the food had been suitably taken care of, the students came out for a quick game of volleyball or basketball. With the new forty-five minute lunch periods students enjoyed a wide variety of activities.

The Year of the Tiger

Coming in a close second, the Sophomores showed an amazing amount of drive and enthusiasm through the entire Spirit Week. On their day the Sophomores brought it all together in one final splurge. They showed their unity as they marched into the gym wearing sections of red, white, and blue with the girls also wearing handmade Betsy Ross caps.

'Tis the Season to be Jolly'

As Christmas time rolled around, the Sophomores added Christmas spirit and sparkle to brighten the day. Besides having one of the best decorated homerooms, many Sophomores were known to carry the spirit of the season throughout the day. The Sophomore class really showed the ol' Christmas spirit.

With a spirit born of class participation and pride, the Junior Class gustily participated in different school-associated activities. That Feeling Called Spirit

"77 Sunset Strip" and the "Bear's Lair" were the hangouts of the Junior Bears during Spirit Week. After some disagreements and much hard work, the boys and girls united within the last two weeks to become strong competition for the other three divisions. With a Bicentennial Time Machine as the theme for their skit, and a slice of cake to celebrate America's birthday, the Junior Class took a strong third place. The bears know what real spirit is all about!

Student Councils Unite

Although each school elected separate student council officers, both groups met several times during the year to discuss problems and events to be planned. Early morning meetings, extra responsibilities, and a lot of organizing were some of the duties of the student officers. Many of the dances, hot lunches, and other fund-raising activities were sponsored by this elected group of students.

Looks like the majority rules, doesn't it? Here student council members vote strongly against presentation of spirit week trophy at a Friday night basketball game.

Although membership in the Business Club is limited to those taking courses in the business field, the Spanish Club is open to all interested students. With the rising number of both men and women in the clerical field, the membership count of the Business Club increased noticeably. Both clubs have sponsored various activities throughout the year and hope to continue to do so with larger memberships and enthusiastic officers.

What makes you happy? Singing and giving, of course, among other things. The Choral and Mission Clubs both enjoy making people happy by opening their hearts and emptying their pockets. Especially during the Christmas season, these two clubs spread the spirit, the Choral Club singing for the Inter-faith Service at Alameda High School, and the Mission Club giving monetary gifts to different organizations.

Whether a member of the Alpine Club or Science Club, students can enjoy many outdoors activities such as skiing, hiking, nature walks, etc. Under Mr. Vosburg's and Mr. Werner's direction, the Alpine and Science Clubs have become very popular. Although the Collector's Club is fairly new, it is becoming increasingly popular. Under Mr. Gravem's supervision, the club puts a variety of collections on display. Collections include coins, stamps, baseball cards and records.

The Speech Club and the staff of the Notre Dame Noise got into the Bicentennial Spirit, practicing both freedom of speech and freedom of the press. Although the articles for the newspaper were often edited in the name of peace, the writers were able to express many of their ideas in print. The Speech Club, which also includes the Debate Team, participated in many contests with speakers of various Bay Area schools.

Dads, Daughters Celebrate

On the evening of November 19, fathers, and daughters joined together in celebration at Mass. With the choir leading the singing, and Monsignor preaching, the effect was inspirational. After the Mass, all gathered in the Notre Dame Hall for dessert and entertainment.

Crowd Pleasers

As St. Joseph's and Notre Dame well know, there are several ways to attract a crowd. One way is to have a dance. Ranging from formal affairs to an evening in the fifties, dances provide music and merriment for all. Another way is offer hot lunch. With the smell of food, everyone came running. A definite crowd-catcher is a fashion show. Dazzling clothes and attractive models all contributed to the success of the Spring Fashion Show.

Say It With Spirit!

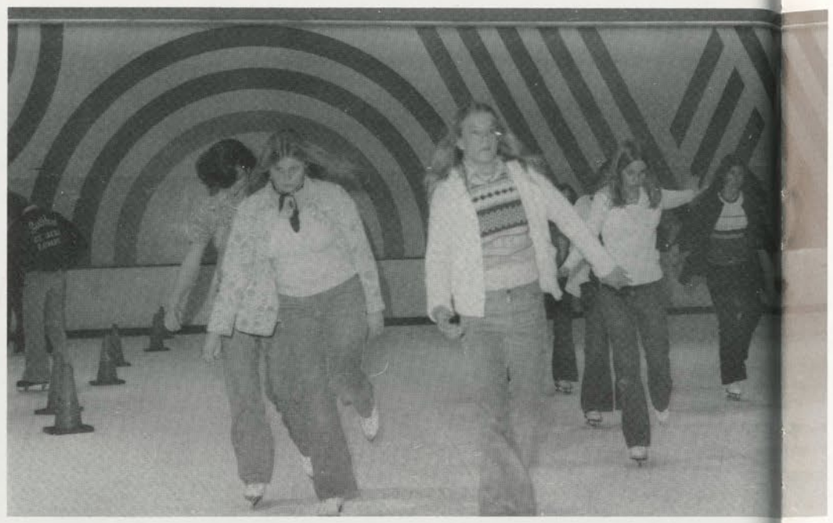

What's red and white and blue all over? You guessed it - Spirit Week. Not only is it the most exciting activity of the year, it is the one that requires the most preparation and cooperation. This year the competition was so close that Honorable Mentions were given to each division. But only one class received the overall spirit trophy. Disappointed Seniors accepted fourth place with the Junior class following up with third. Sophomore class silently took second while the victorious Freshmen enthusiastically captured first.

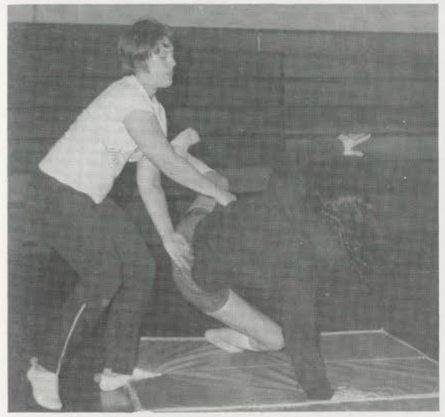

Students Take Crash Courses

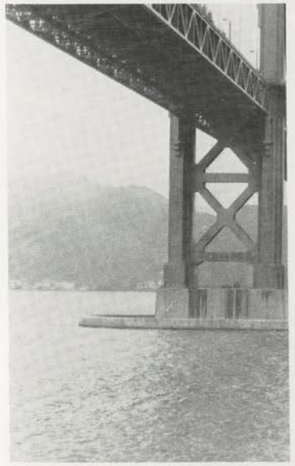

For four full days the students and teachers of St. Joe's and Notre Dame forgot the pressures of school and launched into mini-week. With the wide variety of courses offered, the students had a chance to go places and enjoy new experiences not usually found in the regular school curriculum. Although this was the first year for mini-courses at SJ, they offered such subjects as Court Cases and American Film Heroes. At ND, courses ranged from Ice Skating to Marine Biology. At the end of the week the students were ready to return to the daily life of school.

Falcons Soar In League Play

After three days of tryouts, the Notre Dame volleyball team was chosen. Out of 48 potential players, twelve were picked for both the Varsity and Junior Varsity teams. Then came the practices. Each weekday from the middle of September to the middle of November they worked. Their opening game was played on September 30 against Cardondelet; both teams won. The season ended in November with a game against Bishop O'Dowd. Although neither team finished the season with a high won-lost record, team spirit was high and both teams won the last game of the season.

Different Strokes For Different Folks

Always known as a determined and fighting team, St. Joseph's Crew Team has never been "up a creek without a paddle." Beginning early in the year, Coach Walter Macy readied his team to enter a tough, exciting season. Practicing at all times, in all kinds of weather, they were well-prepared to meet any team.

Pilots Land Championships

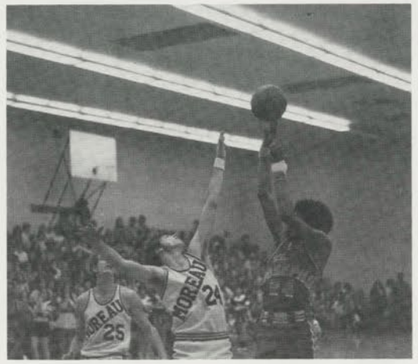

Congratulations, Pilots! You're the greatest! People said you weren't like the winning team of 1974. You started off poorly in the pre-season games. Your tallest man was only 6'3". You didn't have many high scorers. But you put it all together and you won. You won the round-robin title. You won the CAL playoffs. You made it to the North Coast Championships. You furnished excitement for your fans and made them proud to be Pilots. As Mr. Phelps said, "Great things can be accomplished by average people giving their best effort."

JV's, Frosh Finish With Winning Records

Finishing their season with a 12-2 record, the Junior Varsity tied for first place with Moreau. Two players, Robert Giron and Martin Harris, were named all-league; and Jim Steiner and John Nelson were given honorable mentions. The team combined talent with hustle to produce a winning team.

The two all-league players added their talents, Jim Smith with many good steals and Jeff Manning contributing good offensive plays. Honorable mentions went to Jack Russi and David Stephens.

On Your Mark, Get Set, Go!

The girls' track team took off, running hard during the entire season. Coached by Mrs. Gail Rodriquez, they formed early and were ready for anything by the time the season started. Practicing often and through any difficulties, the team showed spirit. As the boys track team had not yet been formed there were no pictures of them, yet Coach Chris Davis had great plans.

With the coming of spring at St. Joe's, the tennis racquets and golf clubs appeared. Although small squads, the tennis and golf teams, coached by Bill Vosburg and Fran Smith respectively, showed a desire to win far beyond their size. A new feature this year was Notre Dame golfer, Janice Carroll. Whether on the courts or on the green, St. Joseph's came up with a winning team.

All The Way In The East Bay

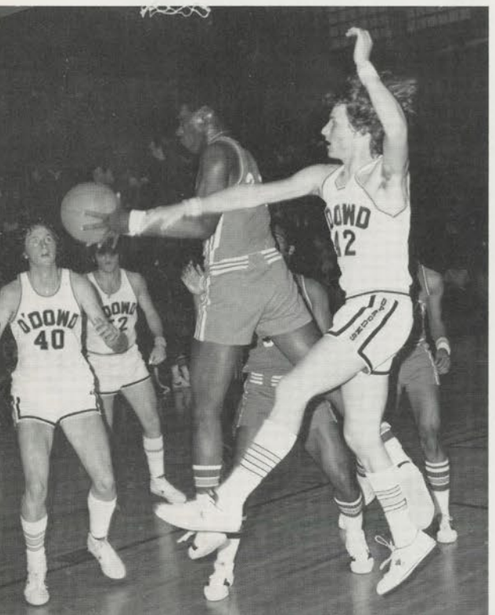

St. Joseph's Pilots entered the CAL playoffs on February 23 with a record of 12 - 2. With fifteen seconds left in their first game against Bishop O'Dowd, Cecil Brown sunk the winning basket. The final score was Pilots 40 and Dragons 39.

With the momentum going, the Pilots entered their last playoff game against Moreau. The Mariners used their entire squad and led well into the last half. Then with two seconds remaining, Anthony Taylor dunked the game-winning basket and it was all over for the Mariners. St. Joes then advanced into the North Coast Tournament where they defeated Washington, College Park, and Berkeley High to capture first place.
