A note about binders: To help students be organized in seventh grade, binders are essential. There are several ways students utilize binders, and sometimes it takes experimentation to find a method that works best for you. One way is to have a binder for each subject. Another way is to have an "A Day" binder and a "B Day" binder. Some students have binders for the classes they have back-to-back (ex/ math block 5/6 and science block 7/8). If using a binder for multiple classes, dividers are recommended.
