

Important Things to Know about your School Nutrition Programs

National School Lunch & School Breakfast Programs

- Student meal accounts are automatically linked to their student ID#
- Meal accounts do not require parental setup nor permission
- Every food item served in the cafeteria has a cost
- The Illinois Hunger-Free Students' Bill of Rights Act requires every school in the State to provide a federally reimbursable meal to any student requesting a meal, regardless of whether the student has the ability to pay for the meal or owes money for earlier meals. The school district is not responsible when students eat meals without parental permission. When this occurs, payment for those meals is required. Parents are encouraged to establish and routinely check their MySchoolBucks account(s) and establish an understanding with their student to prevent eating school meals without parent permission and/or when meals are provided from home
- Additionally, Naperville 203 provides parent notifications monthly for any student that has a negative meal balance

Free and Reduced Meal Program Application Information and Instructions

Naperville 203 offers free and reduced-price school meals and milk to students from households that meet the 2026 federal income eligibility guidelines to qualify under the USDA School Nutrition Programs. All meals provided meet the USDA requirements. Detailed information regarding which items are included in a Free or Reduced lunch will be included with acceptance letters.

Students currently receiving food stamps (SNAP) or “Temporary Assistance for Needy Families” (TANF) or are pre-certified by the state or are certified based on the income reported on the Illinois All-Kids or Medicaid application do not need to fill out an application if the family receives a pre-certification letter from Naperville 203. Pre-certification letters will be provided before the start of the school year.
