VI. Reports and Communications

A. Recognition of Retirees: Leanne Hargus recognized the following retirees: Stephanie Lipari, Leslie Troncale, Cindy Benson, Vickie Hefler, and Mark Clason.

B. RTA report: Edward Shevlin: I want to thank Mrs. Rendon for coming out to support the team on Friday. Very nice to see you there, and I know a couple of the players had mentioned that it was nice to see somebody finally come out to support the team. Yes, I told him I would just let you know, but other than that, there is just something I wanted to bring up, and I would not have brought it up in our team meeting yesterday, but because that actually came up yesterday at the baseball game, and I've been on this, but I really think we need to figure out a way to help our parents be able to see their student athletes. We had a parent who was turned away because she doesn't have a phone and she can't go on go fan, and to be honest, she didn't have $10 to go to the game. I mean, I really think if we're a community school, and I'll go to the conference next week, we really need to look into trying to help our families out. There's another mom who baseball, you don't pay to go into the games, except for the playoffs, and this isn't a debate about having to pay for the playoffs. I'm not debating that, but she didn't know that you had to pay for baseball then, because she didn't pay all year, so she showed up and couldn't get in on Friday. She had to go back home to get $10 and then came back. She found out that she couldn't pay $10 because they needed the code. So, I really think we need to figure something out. I know we are a community schools and stuff, and we talk about all these things about helping our community. I would say to the parent yesterday, not that I was really not probably giving up too much information, but they were not around the last couple of months, they might have been away for a few months, so the first time they were actually going to be able to come see their boy play. I just really think that, and I was, when I was at the high school, as AD and AP, and stuff like that, we had spoken about it, and never went anywhere, like with the cards or something, to help these families be able to experience the games. But while you have those moments, I know I cherish them, this game, and I know I was talking to Mrs. Hargus out there, so they are like they are going to the finals. We need to open that up to our community. So, I just wanted to put that out there. I'm going to keep an eye on it, because I come from a poor family I couldn't afford 10 bucks, you know, for both parents 20 bucks a game, and stuff like that. Some of these kids are multi-sport athletes, so they are talking about, you know, quite a bit of investment into watching their kids play a game, so I just want to put that out there and use my time for that. (Mrs. Gaines responded by stating that the $10 fee is CIF requirement.) CSEA report: Gary Jones: It's Classified School Employees Week, so we are celebrating. Doing a bunch of raffles and giftbags and everything for our people. We are going to buy everybody who would like a T-shirt. We bought them a T-shirt for our union and stuff. So really excited, they look beautiful. So, all in all, I think our people are having a good week. Thank you to the district for buying those pastries and got some fresh cut fruit and drinks and everything on Tuesday. Yeah, so that was really pleasant. We really appreciate those gestures. So, congratulations to our retirees. That's 35 years of experience in our classified unit that is going to be walking out the door, that's so difficult to replace, and then I'm not good at math, but it looked like about 94 years with the teachers and everything also retiring. That's a lot of experience, and that's big hole to fill, so I know Hargus has got her work cut out, and you know, to try to replace these amazing people, but congratulations. As we're celebrating classified employees, a lot of people are like, you know, they have a general idea of what classified employees are, right, easy way to explain is anything that's not a teacher, you know, or an admin. I printed out a list of all of classified people, because sometimes I even forget, and I represent all about 300 of us, so our admin assistants for Ed services, admin assistance for our special ed office, ASB clerks, assistant school bus mechanic, avid tutors, bus drivers, campus safety officers, attendance clerks, office clerks, college and career coordinator, community engagement specialist, custodians, head custodians, district attendance coordinator, district enrollment coordinator, district office clerk, expanded learning coordinator, our expanded learning instructors, food service cooks, delivery drivers for food service, our food service managers, and then all of our food service workers and food service supervisor, groundskeepers, our head groundskeepers, information systems technician, IT systems administrator, lead campus safety officer, library and media technicians, our LVNs, maintenance, our maintenance HVAC specialists, office clerks, paraeducators for special education classrooms, paraeducators for all of our one on one students, and then we have paraeducators for our speech pathologists, classroom paraeducators for our general ed classrooms, and then going down to a school bus mechanic, student transport driver, alternative ed secretary, our principal secretaries, our speech language pathologist assistant, our technology coordinator, and transportation bus aides. It's a lot of different people within our district. We cover so many different aspects of the school district, and they deserve to be celebrated. They do some really difficult work, and they are here every day, just making sure things are running. So, just wanted to give a big shout out to all of them. They are amazing, and I just want to thank them for all the work.

- C. Student Board Member: Aliyah Finch: Drama did amazing with their show. It's awesome. I went and watched it, and then obviously schools come to an end. I brought our new ASB president for next year Valeria Fuentes.
- D. CBO Report: Robert Irving – Absent
- E. Assistant Superintendent, Instruction and Curriculum: Dr. Larry Mendez: Welcome to those who join us in person and also online. Congratulations to the retirees. I hope the classified team is enjoying the appreciation week this week as well, and thank you for all that they do, classified team members. Dr. Wetzell will be having a collaboration third through fifth grade tomorrow continues to work with the team on English language arts daily standards, as well as CFA, common formative assessment, so more collaboration with third through fifth grades, and she's also been working with Tropico Middle School and at Solution Tree as well, collaborating with Tropico Middle School. We are getting ready for summer school. We'll have the two sessions, summer school, as well as the extended school year (ESY). For applications, it looks like we are still looking at the data and all the guidelines in terms of having the students reclassified, but we're looking at 84 students in terms of reclassification. So, we are happy to see that. Thank you to all that worked with the students in terms of designated and integrated, providing that support, as well as ELOP staff working with students and teachers working with students through the academies, and so forth. So, thank you for your support with that. We'll get more details, but also like to thank the elementary school's math adoption committee for the teachers that have served on that committee for their time, dedication, and effort. So, like to let the team know that we appreciate your time, dedication, effort, and serving on the elementary school's math adoption committee.

- F. Assistant Superintendent, Special Education, Pupil Personnel: Sheryl Taylor: Hello everybody. I do want to congratulate all the retirees and wish you all the best in your next endeavors in life, and be very exciting to be in that soon. Also, I want to thank CSEA members, all the members in some aspect and all different aspects. They all help with our Sped kids and do a great job. So, we greatly appreciate you in our department. We are currently working on extended school year and summer school services, because all of our services continue throughout summer, and working on setting up medical billing. They gave us a new option of being able to bill during summer as well, now so we can even bring in more money for our department, so we're working on that. I have pictures, Special Olympics pictures. Thank you, Alma. You might not be able to tell, but the first picture Jonathan had, he had our torch to start everything off, and it had bubbles that went out, and they literally surrounded him.
- G. Associate Superintendent, Human Resources: Leanne Hargus: Good evening, everyone. Congratulations to all of our retirees. You certainly will be missed, and we are working hard to try to fill those spots, and it's hard to fill those spots, so we'll continue to work on that. Don't forget that next Wednesday, the 27th we are going to be having a retiree reception over at the Rosamond High Early College Campus cafeteria from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. so hopefully they will all be there and have a chance to talk to them. Rosie and her staff always do such an amazing job putting that together, so it'll be really nice. So please plan on attending, thanks.
- H. Superintendent Report: Barbara Gaines: I'm going to begin by telling Mrs. Hargus, don't work too hard on filling those spots, just in case you can. Maybe we can do something, reverse it or something. Every time I say goodbye to a group of retirees, I always think that when they leave, they take a little bit of the district with them, you know. When you have serviced students in a community for 20 some years or 14 years, regardless, that's a significant number of years in one person's life to do the same thing over and over, and I can only think of how many students that you have met in that capacity in your roles and the memories that you're taking with you. Yeah, it is sad. I am sad because I know I worry about Suresh a little bit, but I know somebody will come along that will whip him into shape. If you have a stick or something you guys have been using, please leave that. I just want to say, first and foremost, thank you, all of you who are retiring and moving on to a new chapter in your life. I've heard a lot of people fail retirement. I do want to tell you that right now I'm being kind of negative, and I'm sorry. I do have friends who fail miserably. In six months, they're back wanting to work, so just in case, be prepared.

Don't, don't say I didn't warn you, but all jokes aside, I wish you the very best, and I too want to say thank you, thank you, thank you, because its services an amazing thing when it's done right, and you guys have done it so well. It will be hard to fill those shoes. I want to say to the classified staff, I hope that you had a lovely breakfast on Tuesday, and this whole week I'm sure you've been getting all kinds of little treats from everybody, and well deserved, Gary. When I was listening to all those positions, truly, and we say it's the glue, but I can't think of a better word, the positions, we would not be sitting here right now if it weren't for our classified employees, and I just want to say, thank you so much, and thank you to you and Ed, because I truly, I was there three hours last night. I was having fun. Am I supposed to say I wasn't there? They were enjoyable, so yeah, it was. I learned a lot, so thank you for making the collaborative effort between the associations and the district such a good one. I always look forward to meeting and Aliyah, I know you have one more meeting, or is this it one more? One more. Yeah, well, I'm just going to say a little bit tonight, and then I'll say more. You've been an amazing board member, young lady, and you too will be missed. I wish you the very best. I know a little bit about your plans, so you'll have to come back and keep me posted on what all happens as you pursue your career. It's hard to believe that year went by really quickly, but you have done an outstanding job. I think I'm not going to say too much about rumors, because I don't want to jinx them regarding potential test scores. I'm just going to stay with my notes right now, great, but there are some rumors out there anyway. That's all for me, Mr. Vincelette.

- I. Board Member Communications: Robert Vincelette: Well, for change, I'll start it off. First of all, we'll start off with congratulations to our retirees. These two up here, I'm going to miss a lot every time I need to get into the gymnasium or the football or whatever. I'm in her office. Stephanie, you've done a great job for me, especially when I would give you those tickets for grad night, and so forth, and not knowing who got them, but I am sure they were well appreciated. Also working with you over the years has been a pleasure. Congratulations to our staff, our classified, and our teachers, and our administrators. Great season, you know, school year. Look forward to next year. Hopefully, it will get better as we improve our district and keep up doing the good job and great work that you are doing. Far as I get to go attend a graduation coming up this Sunday, so I am going to have fun in Texas to watch somebody graduate. I see somebody smiling. Did you see the interview? They did a good job out there, didn't they? Yeah, for everybody under my granddaughter was the captain of the flag and color guard in Texas, and they did a beautiful write-up on her, it's on Facebook, and I know that they know them very well, and she keeps saying I will get her out here to talk to the girls, that would be good, but she's the tough one to work on, and Aliyah, I am definitely going to miss you, I know I put you a little some tasks that probably put you out of your comfort zone, but I think you're better off for it. I really miss you as well, because you did a fantastic job. You have a reward coming grad night. Sunni Hepburn: me. Okay. Hi guys. Thank you, guys, for being here. Congratulations to the retirees. Mrs. Lipari, I remember you day one. I can't believe it has been 28 years. Oh my gosh, good luck with your future endeavors. You as well, Mrs. Benson. Good luck. Garden, that is a great thing to do. Then you will not want to come, start the garden. We have a community garden coming up. You can tend to that, maybe. I don't know. I wrote down notes, but we kind of talked about things. So, hang on, let me go through my notes. I tried to see you prepared today, um I can't read my own handwriting, but I, too, am looking forward to the end of the school year. I feel like we've had a really good year. I'm looking forward to the concerts that are coming up at Tropico and the graduations. I got a sneak peek of the TK classrooms over there. I was able to walk through there and see what's going on, so I am really looking forward to that. I did also have a look at the kindergarten area at Westpark, and it is a little scary, so hopefully we will, as we are, you know, modernizing and building up our campus, we take care of some of the older things as well. Let me see what else, like I said, looking forward to wrapping up this school year and graduations next month, and everybody keep growing. All right. Thank you, Bob. Justin Wright: Congratulations to our retirees. I wish in the next 40 years, maybe I'll be able to retire. Everyone does a lot of hard work, like everyone says it is the backbone, a lot of people, but congratulations to everyone, well deserved. That's all I got. Adrienne Rendon: Okay, so I have my numbered. Good evening. Thank you all for joining us. So, you probably are going to hate hearing it again, but congratulations to all the retirees. I wish you good luck, and in your new whatever it is you choose to do, just do it. Thank you for naming all the positions, those are all the behind the scenes that keep everything running the way it is. So, thank you for that. I appreciate it. Welcome to the new ASB president. You said yes, welcome. So, it could be a little intimidating, like you are seeing up here, but it's fine. You'll ease into it. Thank you, Mr. Shevlin, for bringing attention to these sports. I know you brought it up before, so thank you again for bringing it up. I appreciate it. I thank you all for your reports this evening. I do appreciate it, regardless of how long it is. I do pull things away from that, so thank you. That is it. We have a couple weeks to go, so let's keep at it. Mario Gutierrez: Thank you everybody for coming, and I am sorry we are rescinding your retirement. Enjoy your retirement. Do what you want to do now. You can. We will miss you. The deal with having to go on your phone, go to Fan Go to get tickets to any CIF game. I hate I almost couldn't make it into one of the games because my phone wouldn't talk to Fan Go, and I was so mad, I was about ready to just never mind, we'll be good, but yeah, it is a real pain, you mean, the everyday games are great. I love it. I am a little basic basketball fan, but baseball is always during the day when I'm working. I can't just take off and go, but you know, we have to deal with CIF. Is the one that puts that together for Fan Go. I forget. I hate it. I wish we could do something about it for the next game. That is it for me. Thank you.
